Man Killed As Own Car Drags Him

Fatality Off Shoreline Is Fifth In Marin For 1964

A 23-year-old Homestead Valley man was dragged to death by his skidding car on Almonte Boulevard, 200 feet north of Shoreline Highway, at 2:25 a.m. today.

Thomas Gene Kronzer of 444 La Verne Avenue caught his foot behind the steering wheel post of the car and was dragged over the pavement of the roadway.

There were no seat belts in his 1956 Ford sedan, reported Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley.

The death was the fifth in Marin County traffic accidents this year, as compared to three at this time last year.

Kronzer, a trumpet player at Goman's Gay Nineties in San Francisco, suffered a severe skull fracture and bruises. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 3:01 a.m.

Kronzer rounded a curve northbound on Almonte Boulevard near Helen Avenue at fast speed. His car ran off the east side of the roadway, arched back onto the road and overturned, reported California Highway Patrolmen Charles Heart and Gerald Walkup, who investigated the accident.

The car landed right side up in a gravel driveway at 241 Almonte Boulevard. The officers said Kronzer was dead when they arrived at the scene a few minutes after the accident.

The auto skidded a total of 186 feet from where it first went out of control to the driveway. Shattered glass and automobile parts were strewn 45 feet behind the car.

Kronzer, a native of Two Rivers, Wis.,

He is survived by his wife, Jeanne; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Kronzer, and one brother and two sisters, Timothy and Mary Kronzer and Mrs. Linda Cox, all of Los Gatos.

DEATH TRAP—Deputy Sheriff William Keaton examines car which dragged Thomas Gene Kronber of Homestead Valley to his death today on Almonte Boulevard. Kronber's foot caught behind the steering wheel post and the car dragged him as it careened off and on road before flipping over, according to investigators.

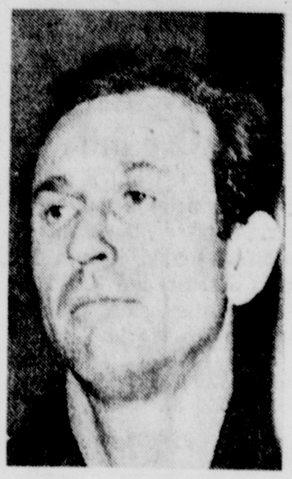
Escaper From Quentin Nabbed In Philadelphia

Suspected Of Killing Policeman



JESSE JAMES GILBERT
After 7 months of freedom

BILLIE JO CARDER
Agents wanted her, too

Jesse James Gilbert, 38, who escaped from San Quentin Prison last July 20 and allegedly held up a Alhambra loan office and killed a policeman Jan. 3, was in custody in Philadelphia today.

Gilbert, described as a "model prisoner" during his most recent stay in Marin, was placed last month on the Federal Bureau of of Investigation's list of "10 most wanted men."

Because of his good prison record, Gilbert was assigned to the farm outside the prison walls. Crawling through the farm fence was a simple thing. He was not missed until the bed check on the evening of July 20.

Since then, he has been hard to trace. When FBI men arrested him, he was wearing a disguise which included a wig, heavy-rimmed glasses, and a bandage over a tattoo on his arm.

He was picked up on a Philadelphia street corner. Agents said he had a loaded .45 caliber automatic pistol in a shoulder holster, but did not resist arrest.

Ranchers Now Anxious To Sell Property

Too Many Visitors At Seashore Reason Residents Want Out

Ranchers at Point Reyes, faced with a growing tide of the visiting public, are anxious to sell their land soon to the federal government.

News of the Point Reyes National Seashore, now being developed through gradual land purchase, has attracted more and more weekend visitors, and many of them spill over onto private land.

"Cows and people don't mix," Rancher William Hall told the Independent-Journal today. He said the government can buy his 1,212-acre ranch at any time, the sooner the better.

Mrs. J. H. Mendoza, whose mother-in-law has large holdings on the point, declared that the influx of park visitors is already causing a problem. She said strangers have wandered into her home to use the bathroom without so much as a howdy-do.

Some visitors have pulled out a new Standard Oil road map which shows the entire peninsula as a national park. This is to support the visitor's

William D. Fusselman, 75, who started his 22nd year as county supervisor this year, quietly filed his nomination papers yesterday for re-election in District 2 (Ross Valley).

He has been supervisor continuously since 1944, and has been re-elected every four years since then. He will be seeking his sixth term in office.

Fusselman served as chairman of the board in 1953, 1954, 1961 and 1963.

He is opposed this year by Ernest N. Kettenhofen, 46, re-

Ruby Trial Jury Efforts Bogged Down

COMBINED AP & UPI

DALLAS — The effort to complete a jury for Jack Ruby's murder trial bogged down again today when the first six prospective jurors were disqualified.

The total number of jury candidates called reached 101 in the first hour of the morning session.

Eight men and women have been chosen as jurors, leaving four to be found.

Courtroom principals still believe the jury will be completed by tomorrow.

Royb's lawyers jolted the courtroom with the suggestion that killing a Communist may not deserve the death penalty.

Defense attorney Joe H. Tonahill put this question to the 99th prospect:

"Would you consider it un-Texan to be a member of the first jury in America to give the death penalty for shooting a Communist?"

Lee Harvey Oswald was an avowed Marxist.

Panelist C. B. Perkins was not allowed to answer. The three prosecutors leaped up with objections and were sustained. Perkins was then removed for having an opinion.

GREATEST GROWTH FOR COUNTY JUST STARTING

Bay Area Council Aide Says Marin To Be Important Force

Marin County's period of greatest growth has just begun, according to S. Clark Beise, chairman of the Bay Area Council.

Marin's role is changing from that of a "semi-static" community to one of the most important economic forces in the Bay Area, he said. "Marin, today, is entering what we might call its young adulthood."

Beise outlined the county's future role in the Bay Area before approximately 135 business and civic leaders at a luncheon yesterday at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael.

San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, president of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, stressed cooperative governmental efforts throughout the Bay Area.

Speaking under the handicap of a faulty sound system, which cut out on occasion, Beise said, "I firmly expect that Marin within the next few years will become one of the more important counties economically in the area."

Marin will not become a major industrial center, but an important industrial subcenter in the Bay Area, he said. "Employment in the county will rise substantially."

A greater percentage of the county's working population will work within the county, Beise predicted. "In 1950, 50 per cent of those employed worked in the county, and now it's 60 per cent."

In the past 15 years, the population of the county has doubled and employment tripled, he noted. "One aspect of this increase in home county employment is the relative decline in commuting."

He compared Marin's current growth with that in San Mateo County a decade ago. San Mateo has grown from a bedroom community to a county with its own industrial and commercial base, he said.

Marin County's population is second highest in the area, surpassed only by Santa Clara County, he said.

Although Marin County will become more economically independent, it will become more inter-dependent and more inter-related with other counties

2 Burglaries Yield $640 In San Rafael

Burglars last night struck at a San Rafael bar-restaurant and a soft drink warehouse, making off with total loot of about $640 cash and $408 in non-negotiable checks, police reported today.

West End Villa, 11 G Street, was entered between 11 p.m. yesterday and 6:45 a.m. today, officers said, by jimmying a rear door. Owner Dave Marowitz said intruders forced a second door, leading into the storeroom, and took a blue money sack containing $490.80 cash from an unlocked drawer.

He said nothing was taken from the bar.

The break-in was reported by Lester Gary Maupin, restaurant janitor, who resides at 1145 Elm Drive, Novato.

Police said burglars entered Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co. warehouse at 25 Market Street by breaking a front door lock. Office desk drawers were ransacked, and $150 cash and $408 in non-negotiable checks taken.

Senators Told Baker Helping Gamblers' Bid

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Senate Aide Robert G. (Bobby) Baker went to bat for several big-time gambling casino operators who wanted to run the gaming tables on the Dutch island of Curacao in the Caribbean, senators were told today.

John Gates, a vice president of Pan American Airways, said Baker, when he was Senate Democratic secretary, arranged meetings for three Nevada men who sought the gambling concession at the Tropical Island Hotel.

Pan American, through its subsidiary, Intercontinental Hotels Corp., owns or operates hotels in Curacao, Santo Domingo, and San Juan, all of which have legal casinos.

Gates told the Senate rules committee investigating Baker's resignation last Oct. 7, disturbed the owners of the hotel and no contract has been signed.

Gates said that Baker introduced the operators as friends and said that to his knowledge, Baker had no financial interest in the proposed contract.

The first meeting on June 20, 1962, was attended by Baker, Gates, and Edward Levinson, owner of the Fremont Hotel in Las Vegas, the witness said.

Special counsel Lennox P. McLendon said attempts to serve Levinson with a subpoena to testify have failed because "we can't catch up with him."

"It looks like now he is giving us the run-around," McLendon commented. The committee also has been unable to serve a subpoena on Miami real estate operator Ben Siegelbaum.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) —Prosecutors today struck back at defense attempts to attack the credibility of the main government witness who testified that Teamsters President James R. Hoffa attempted to fix a jury.

Louisiana labor leader Victor Bussi, called to the stand in rebuttal, testified that the government's key witness, Edward Partin, was "a man of his word."

Partin, a Teamster business agent, said earlier in the trial that Hoffa was active in attempts to bribe and corrupt jurors in a 1962 trial at Nashville, Tenn.

U. S. Has Tripled Missiles

End Arms Race, Aide Tells Parley

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States, making a new appeal for an end to the "vicious circle of the arms race," disclosed today it has more than tripled its missile strength in the past two years.

U.S. presidential envoy William C. Foster disclosed the 200 per cent increase in a speech to the 17-nation disarmament conference. He also said that at the planned production rate the American strategic missile inventories by 1965 will be 750 per cent greater than when the conference began in March, 1962.

ASKS FOR HALT

He noted that Soviet missiles also will be increasing, and he called on Moscow to join Washington in putting a stop to the upward arms spiral.

The first and basic task, Foster said, is to search for areas of mutual interest.

The speech was Foster's last to the conference before returning to Washington this afternoon to report to President Lyndon B. Johnson on the status of the talks. Foster is director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

GIVES FIGURES

"United States strategic missiles inventories have increased more than 200 per cent since our conference began in March, 1962," Foster said.

"By 1965, these inventories will reach approximately 750 per cent of those in 1962. The Soviet Union is also increasing its missile forces. A sharply-rising line describes the trend on both sides."

Foster said President Johnson's proposals for a freeze on missile production and halting the production of fissionable materials for nuclear weapons "are of particular importance."

"We believe they could well lead to agreements of mutual interest in the immediate future," he said.

Foster stressed, however, that an East-West missile freeze would have to be verified.

California Income Running Ahead

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's income is running well ahead of last year's, but still lags behind state spending.

State Controller Alan Cranston said yesterday income for the first seven months of this fiscal year was up 6-7 per cent to $893,427,160, but expenditures were $1,166,001,751.

Income usually picks up in the spring, Cranston said, particularly with the payment of state income taxes.

The state sales tax made up more than half of the income — $479,686,888; while more than half the outgo — $451,779,603 — was spent on aid to schools.

SURPRISE

Fete Given For Mrs. Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — To President Lyndon B. Johnson it was a "very touching, very spiritual" little ceremony.

That is how the chief executive described the surprise party held for Mrs. John F. Kennedy last night at her new home in the capital's Georgetown section.

The President and Mrs. Johnson headed the list of more than a dozen high-ranking guests who showed up unexpectedly at Mrs. Kennedy's home to present her with gifts as tokens of their affection for her and her late husband. Johnson presented Mrs. Kennedy with four of the pens he used to sign into law the largest tax cut in U.S. history.

Johnson said the party served as a housewarming.

Mrs. Johnson paid a courtesy call at Mrs. Kennedy's offices in the Executive office building, next door to the White House, on Tuesday and saw the huge bins of mail. Letters of condolence still pour in at the rate of about 1,000 a week.

In addition to the pens, Mrs. Kennedy was presented a gold coffee service and tray, engraved with the names of the guests.

Others at the party with their wives were former White House aide Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., Peace Corps director R. Sargent Shriver Jr., Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass), Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz, Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone, Treasury Secretary C. Cuba Red Tracking Station

The island is less than 250 miles from the U.S. missile base at Cape Kennedy, Fla.

The official press agency Tass identified the scientist as Nikolai Yerpylev, scientific secretary of the Soviet Academy of Science. It said he left Moscow "to start the preliminary stage of the work."

Tass reported yesterday that Yerpylev's mission was in accordance with a cooperation agreement between the Soviet and Cuban Academies of Science. It said equipment for the satellite station includes "chronometers and astronomical instruments."

(In Washington, a U.S. space expert said such a station in Cuba would help the Soviets keep more precise track of their own manned and unmanned craft in orbit. He said he doubted that the Russians needed a Cuban base to keep watch on U.S. launchings from Cape Kennedy.)

The carp, a native of Asia, was introduced in the United States in 1872.

Coming Of Age Is Predicted For County

in the Bay Area in other fields, he said.

Economically, socially and geographically the Bay Area is an entity, Beise said. "No county is an island unto itself. If one is healthy economically, it benefits each. The magnitude of Bay Area problems demands cooperation."

Beise voiced a warning also:

"Unless the problem of transporting both people and goods between Marin and the core of the area is satisfactorily and economically solved, Marin will stagnate."

Beise, chairman of the board of the Bank of America, was followed at the speaker's stand by McInnis.

The cooperation among cities and counties in the Bay Area through the Assn. of Bay Area Governments is unique and is being watched "all over the United States," McInnis said.

There is a rapport between county and city "levels" that is found nowhere else, he said. "This leads to a maturing of local government."

Since Marin County is "relatively last" of the Bay Area counties to develop, it still has what other counties do not . . . "a tremendous, beautiful area of undeveloped property," McInnis said.

It is essential that planning be keyed to regional requirements, he declared.

Through ABAG, eight counties and 65 cities have joined voluntarily to work out solutions to regional problems, McInnis said. The association tackles complex problems that cross city-county lines on the theory that the solution lies in over-all area planning.

The luncheon was sponsored by the Marin County Development Assn. and the Bay Area Council and chambers of commerce in Marin County.

Rex T. Silvernale, president of the development association, was luncheon chairman. Fred F. Enemark, Marin County vice president of the Bay Area Council, introduced the speakers.

The speeches were taped by Radio Station KTIM and will be broadcast at 11 a.m. Sunday on KTIM (1510 kc) and KTIM-FM (100.9 mc).

Queen Mother Plans Convalescence Trip

LONDON (AP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth will convalesce from her appendicitis operation aboard the royal yacht Britannia in the Caribbean next month, her household announced last night.

She will fly to Jamaica via New York by scheduled airliner, arriving March 12, and return to England April 1.

McInnis Is Elected Chairman Of Mayors

Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael was elected chairman of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen last night at a dinner meeting at Franchini's Chateau north of San Rafael.

McInnis succeeds Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks of Mill Valley.

Thirty-one mayors and councilmen attended the dinner to hear State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) discuss rapid transit, countywide school tax, and the proposed Office of California Development.

Senator McCarthy urged countywide support for a bill which will be introduced next week to set up a Marin Transit District. "Resolutions of support from each of the city councils represented here tonight would be of great help to Bill Bagley and me in carrying this legislation through both houses of Legislature," said McCarthy.

The Senate minority leader attacked the proposed countywide school tax as "striking at our basic belief in home rule or local control."

He said he would oppose the Brown Administration's tourism promotion program within the Office of California Development. "It would merely duplicate the efforts of our local chambers of commerce," he said.

Mayor Arthur W. Smith of San Anselmo, the host city, welcomed the group and introduced the speaker. Mayor Sheeks was master of ceremonies.

A second speaker was Robert Beebe of the California State Department of Employment office in San Rafael, who discussed youth employment.

CLAY FANS PICKET PRO-LISTON BARBER

Earlie Brown, who operates the Marin City Barber Shop, took a trimming himself on the Liston-Clay fight —he was a Liston fan. So to get even, Brown decreed no haircuts for Clay backers. Picketing his shop in protest against the edict today were (from left) Morris Coleman, Larry Simonton and Edward Tate—the last Brown's shoeshine man, who lost his job for backing the wrong (or right?) man in Tuesday night's prize fight in Miami Beach.

School Unit Meets—No Notification

Trustees of Lagunitas School District last night held a closed personnel session in violation of the state education code to discuss evaluation of an unnamed male teacher.

State code requires notification to newspapers and radio 48 hours in advance of all board meetings. Supt. Clifford L. Frye today said that failure to notify the press was an oversight.

He said the meeting was set on request of Mrs. Glen E. Twitchell, wife of the board president, who called the school Monday.

Frye said the session, lasting about an hour, was "just a routine personnel meeting." However, Trustee John Nielsen reported "some questions had come up." He said it was nothing that required immediate action and no decision was made last night.

All board members were present, Frye said.

The Committee for the Lagunitas School Tax met following the board session. Committee Chairman Robert E. Lea, said plans for precinct work were discussed, poster designs approved and another meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. March 10 at Lagunitas School to discuss the financing that makes it necessary for trustees to ask for a 65-cent increase in the general purpose tax rate April 14.

Mayors 'Table' Rights Measure

The Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen voted 4 to 3 last night to "table" any appointments to the county's newly formed Human Rights Commission.

Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks of Mill Valley, who presided at the dinner meeting, announced the executive board of the commission had asked for three members to be appointed to represent the cities.

Cities which voted to table the matter were Ross, San Anselmo, Larkspur and Fairfax. Those opposed to tabling were Mill Valley, Sausalito and San Rafael. Novato was not represented at the meeting, and Corte Madera did not cast a vote.

Stinson's Ambulance Corps Has Busy Time

Stinson Beach's volunteer ambulance corps has had a "busy month," Yvonne Gillman, secretary of the corps, reported last night to the Stinson Beach Fire Protection District.

She said the commission "can be very proud of commissioner Lee Sefton," who went into the surf last Friday with a rope to rescue Carol Coker, 18, of Alameda.

Miss Coker, with a friend, William Waters, also of Alameda, were pulled offshore in heavy surf. Sefton then acted as attendant in the ambulance accompanying Waters to the hospital.

Cheriff's deputies rescued Waters and Airman Dennis Dickinson, the latter whom had gone out on a log to rescue the Alameda pair.

Mrs. Gilman said nine have passed examinations in a standard first aid course. Seventeen have enrolled for an advanced class, conducted by Arthur Volz, to start Monday.

Commissioners approved appointment of Jack Zurlinden as third assistant fire chief of the volunteer fire department, replacing R. B. Putnam, who resigned for business reasons. Putnam will retain his membership as a volunteer, said Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, assistant secretary.

Publicist Can Be Hired By Hospital

Marin Hospital District has legal authority to hire a publicist, in the opinion of the California legislative counsel.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael), asked the legislative counsel for an opinion on legality of employment of a public relations man for the district, which is a public entity with power to levy taxes.

Legislative Counsel Angus C. Morrison replied, in an opinion by Stanley M. Lourimore, his deputy, that although there is no express authority in the Local Hospital District Law for such employment, it is covered by implied powers of such districts.

"It would appear to us that the employment of a public relations man to improve the relations between a hospital and the people it serves would be to the advantage of the hospital and certainly something which an individual operating a hospital might do," the opinion said.

Marin Hospital District board Tuesday night re-employed until the end of the fiscal year, June 30, The San Francisco public relations firm of Becker and Mueller at a fee of $750 per month. Jules Becker of Ross, a partner in the firm, handles the hospital district's public relations.

Belvedere Boy Claims Man Tried To Molest Him

A 15-year-old Belvedere youth told police last night he was allegedly molested by a man after the man gave him a ride home from a Boy Scout meeting in Mill Valley.

The boy reported he left the meeting at about 10:30 p.m., hitchhiking from Mill Valley to Belvedere. He was given a ride by a man whom he described as about 30-years-old and driving a station wagon.

On Golden Gate Avenue in Belvedere, the youth reported, the man tried to molest him. The boy got out of the car and ran down the hill to the police station. He told police he had never seen the man before.

Memorial Fund Stolen From School

There were no funds left today at the Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera for a John F. Kennedy memorial placque, and the seventh and eighth grade and student council treasuries were completely depleted.

Burglars during the night or early morning entered the school and stole about $500 from a safe in the office of Principal Catherine Burch.

Custodian Travis Bynum noticed the safe was open when he unlocked the school today at 7 a.m. The school was closed at 7:30 p.m. last night.

Burglars had broken a glass panel in a door on the east side of the school at 58 Mohawk Avenue.

They tried unsuccessfully to punch the safe lock, then to peel the safe. They finally opened it by banging hole in the side of the safe with a sledge hammer.

Corte Madera police were investigating whether the sledge hammer used was one stolen from the town's corporation yard office between 4:30 p.m. yesterday and 7:45 a.m. today.

Town maintnance man Stanley White discovered the sledge hammer was missing when he arrived at the corporation yard office this morning. A window had been broken in the office to gain entry.

Contained in the school safe was $41 collected from pupils for a Kennedy memorial placque, $37.95 in the student council fund, $191.59 in the seventh and eighth grade treasuries, and money collected for milk.

RANCH

claim of being on public land and not trespassing.

Hall, who has lived all his life on his ranch which borders Drake's Estero, said ranchers are caught in the middle. Under the park development program, the ranchers can retain their land or sell it to other individuals as long as it continues in ranch use.

Mrs. Mendoza said if the situation continues, the federal government will have to provide private owners some protection by patrolling property.

"The trouble is that the purchase is not developing in an orderly fashion," she said.

She said hunters get on the property and no one knows they are there, and people cross the land to get to the beach and build fires. "This can be dangerous," she said.

Engle, Kuchel Vote For Cut

Both California senators, Democrat Clair Engle and Republican Thomas H. Kuchel, voted for the 11.5-billion-dollar tax cut bill in Washington yesterday.

The Senate passed the bill by 74 to 19 vote.

In the earlier House vote, Rep. Don H. Clausen of the First Congressional District (Marin and Redwood Empire) also voted for the tax cut. Clausen is a Republican.

CAPTURE

Agents said she was an accomplice of Gilbert.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today that Gilbert and Edgar Ball Weaver held up the Mutual Savings and Loan Assn. of Alhambra of $11,492 in a daylight robbery Jan. 3. In attempting to escape, Weaver was fatally wounded and Police Sgt. George Davis was shot dead, allegedly by Gilbert, using a .45 caliber automatic pistol.

Weaver and Gilbert reportedly used a female employee of the loan company as a shield as they withdrew after the robbery. She was not hurt.

Weaver was captured after the escape car crashed into a telephone pole. He died the same day.

Capt. Carl Hocker of San Quentin Prison said today he was sure Weaver and Gilbert became acquainted during prison terms. He could not be sure, however, if they first met at Folsom or at San Quentin.

Gilbert first entered San Quentin in 1945 at the age of 19. The commitment was from the California Youth Authority after Gilbert was convicted of burglary. While at San Quentin he was convicted of second degree murder in the stabbing of a fellow prisoner in 1946. Later Gilbert was transferred to Folsom, then released on parole in 1959.

He returned to San Quentin in May, 1961, as a parole violator with a new conviction of a burglary in Los Angeles County. He was serving a six month-to-15 year term.

Captain Hocker said Gilbert was well behaved and well liked by both officers and prisoners at San Quentin. A month prior to his escape, his application for parole had been turned down. This was the only thing Captain Hocker could think of that might have made Gilbert decide to escape.

Gilbert, a native of Lindsay, Okla., spent most of his life outside prison bars in Los Angeles County.

He is named in two federal bank robbery warrents in Los Angeles County and also in a warrant charging flight to avoid confinement. Miss Carder was also wanted for unlawful flight and in connection with violation of California state parole.

Miss Carder and Gilbert were to be given hearings today before U.S. Commissioner William Bruno in Philadelphia.

OBITUARIES

LaSelle Gilman Succumbs

LaSelle (Lou) Gilman of Tomales, a war correspondent, author and long-time newspaperman, died in a Santa Rosa hospital last night after a six-month battle with lung cancer. He was 56.

His record of service, which included the Independent-Journal, stretched from California to China. He worked in China for eight years, covering the Sino-Japanese War and serving as city editor of the China Press in Shanghai.

After being driven out of China by the Japanese, he worked for a time in Australia, New Zealand, the Cook Islands, Samoa, Fiji Islands and Honolulu. He was in Honolulu when the Japanese struck Pearl Harbor.

During World War II he covered war news for the Honolulu Advertiser and Reuters, a British news agency.

After the war, he worked for the San Francisco Examiner, San Francisco Call-Bulletin, Sacramento Union, Independent-Journal and the Santa Rosa Press-Democrat, which he joined six years ago. He was news editor of the Press Democrat until his fatal illness.

During the post-war period, he took time out to write six novels. He was also the author of several short stories and magazine articles. Most of his work was on the Far East, but one of his novels was centered around Bodega Bay.

Several of his works have been translated by the U.S. Information Service into Oriental languages and widely circulated in the Far East.

He was a native of Rochester, Minn., and a graduate of the school of journalism of University of Nebraska.

His wife, Vada, is the postmaster at Tomales. Gilman also leaves two sons by an earlier marriage, Peter, with the armed forces in Germany, and John of San Francisco.

Funeral will be at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Parent Funeral Chapel in Petaluma. Burial will be in Tomales Protestant Cemetery.

Lawyer Says FBI Wrote Confession

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Defense attorney Gladys Towles Root today charged that FBI agents helped write a confession introduced at the trial of three men accused of kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr.

The confession was accepted in evidence as a statement given to agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in San Diego by defendant John Irwin after he surrendered Dec. 13.

In cross-examination of FBI Agent William S. Fields, Mrs. Root charged that the 27-page statement was an "interpretation" made by Fields and two other agents who interrogated Irwin.

Fields denied her contention but said, "Mr. Irwin had trouble phrasing things. He'd say, 'Here's what I want to say. You fellows help me.'"

Mrs. Root, clad in a leopard skin dress with a standup collar that framed her blonde hair, drew from Fields the admission that Irwin objected to the use of the word "hideout" to describe a Canoga Park house where young Sinatra was held.

The attorney also suggested that Irwin never authorized use of the word "ransom" to describe money he turned over to the FBI, but Fields denied this.

$320 In Cash, Radio Stolen

A transistor radio and $320 in cash were stolen from the bedroom of a Strawberry home last night, sheriff's deputies reported.

Joseph M. and Mary E. Sullivan said they returned to their home at 303 Richardson Drive after an evening in San Francisco and noticed one of the bedroom windows open. Stolen, they said, were two $100 bills, two $50 bills, a $20 bill, and the radio.

BEWARE OF TATTOOED MEN, DOCTOR ADVISES

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Beware the tottooed man.

That's the conclusion of a University of Southern California psychiatrist who studied more than 400 men in a Veterans Administration hospital, 65 of them with decorated skins.

Dr. Joe Yamamoto says he found the tattooed man had many behavior deviations, including:

1. He is more frequently divorced or single, indicating he was much more likely to have difficulty making adjustments with women.

2. With a record of courts-martial and service-connected disabilities, he appears to be something of a liability for the armed forces.

154 Students Squeeze Into U.C. Civil Defense Shelter

After an hour they filed out of the room which on civil defense records is an air raid shelter designed to hold 254.8 persons.

'The whole program's a fraud," smirked group leader Miss Jackie Goldberg, 19.

'Why we gave up those shelter figures a long time ago because they were unrealistic," said Berkeley civil defenses coordinator Chester Moller. "I don't know why the university allows this. I guess they're just raising a little hell out there . . . "

School's Field Trip Delayed By Bush Crash

A field trip to a Novato farm by the fifth grade class of Hidden Valley School San Anselmo School District, was briefly delayed today when their bus collided with a parked car in San Rafael.

There were no injuries.

K. J. Schmitz, 53, relief bus driver and custodian, said he was traveling north on Lincoln Avenue at Fourth Street about 11:20 a.m. with 28 students when an approaching car swerved into his lane to avoid an ice cream truck.

He said he in turn chose to hit the parked car of Ronald Minyard, 22, of 20 Marquard Avenue, San Rafael. Minor left rear fender damage resulted to the car, according to California Highway Patrol. Driver of the oncoming car did not halt, Schmitz said.

Recall Filing Date Deadline March 20

The final filing date for candidates in the Lagunitas School District recall election is March 20, not March 27 as had been earlier reported by the county superintendent of schools office.

The election has been set May 5 on recall of Trustee Georgette Vilas. Elizabeth Ager of the county schools office said the original notification on deadlines for filing had made a mistake.

She said no papers for candidates had yet been filed.

Japan Airliner Crashes—20 Die; 22 Saved

TOKYO (UPI) — Twenty persons died today when a Japanese airliner overran a runway at Oita Airport, crashed into a retaining wall and burst into flame. There were 22 survivors.

The accident occurred when the American made twin-engine Convair PV-240 of the domestic Fuji Air Lines was attempting to land on its second approach to the airport. It was en route to Oita from Kagoshima—two cities on Japan's southernmost island of Kyushu.

The victims included both stewardesses and 18 passengers, two of them honeymooners.

It was Japan's second domestic air disaster this month. Two persons were killed and eight injured Feb. 18 when an amphibious plane crashed near Osaka.

The temperature at the equator on the moon when the sun is overhead has been estimated at 248 degrees Fahrenheit, but drops to minus 238 degrees Fahrenheit during the night.

Districts Clash Over Garbage Of Bel Marin

Two Marin County districts refuse to give up any jurisdiction to each other and it may take the district attorney to straighten them out.

The districts are the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District and Novato Sanitary District. Each claims jurisdiction over collecting of garbage in Bel Marin Keys.

The Novato Sanitary District board Tuesday night set March 9 as a deadline for getting the dispute settled. Charles Joseph, engineer-manager of the district, said the matter will likely be referred to the district attorney if not settled by then.

The matter first came before the sanitary district board on Feb. 10, when it was pointed out two companies were competing for the garbage in Bel Marin Keys: Novato Disposal Service, under contract with the sanitary district, and Five Brothers of Santa Rosa, under contract with the Bel Marin Keys Community Services District.

Leland H. Jordan, attorney for the community services district, gave his opinion that the community services district would have jurisdiction because it was legally formed with that power and had let the contract first.

James T. Morton, attorney for the sanitary district, gave just the opposite opinion. He said that because the community services district had annexed to the Novato Sanitary District, the latter's ordinances and contracts would supercede those of the community services district.

While the districts quarrel, Five Brothers of Santa Rosa are collecting the garbage.

Hearing On Goerndt Ran Up $3,193 Bill

Cost of the hearing before the Sausalito Board of Review last year to oust Howard Goerndt as chief of police was $3,193. Of this $2,000 was paid to City Atty. Leland H. Jordan, $1,250 to Thomas C. Nelson, counsel for the board, and $683 for the court reporter.

Goerndt was demoted to sergeant on termination of the hearing which started Oct. 24 and ended Dec. 9.

100 Attend Larkspur Tax Group Meet

About 100 persons turned out last night for an organization meeting of the Larkspur School District tax-bond committee in San Clemente School.

Committee chairman James McClintock said the number of persons attending the meeting was "encouraging," although he noted it was not a high percentage of parents in the district.

Persons present heard from a real estate broker in the audience that there have been lost sales of homes due to failure to pass two tax and bond elections within the last year.

The committee will make a survey of real estate offices in the district to determine the number of lost sales, McClintock said.

Publicity, brochure andd poster committees were organized. McClintock said the publicity committee is considering holding rallies in the shopping center and street dances.

Are '20s, '60s Too Much Alike?

(Fourth of series)
By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The "Soaring Sixties" and the "Roaring Twenties" sound alike to many people — too much alike for entire comfort.

But the two decades have sharp differences. And in the minds of many Americans, right now anyway, the differences are uppermost.

Neither decade was without its setbacks.

The late 1920s saw stock speculation far outstripping anything the '60s have produced so far. It was an era of credit expansion, with the newly organized Federal Reserve System assigned the task of providing enough credit for a growing economy, but policing excesses.

It was also an era of chicanery, of swindles in the stock market, in banking, in industry. It was an era of the fast buck and endless opportunity.

Some point out that the 1960s have all these things. Outstanding credit is at a record high. Trading on the New York Stock Exchange has topped the volume of 1929, the old champ. Many stock prices are at record highs. So are corporate earnings. Speculative flurries have burned many fingers.

Business swindles have sent executives fleeing to Brazil. Commodity and stock scandals have toppled firms, brought court action. Confidence has been widely expressed in the licking, or at least the flattening, of the business cycle.

But the differences between the two decades are important.

Credit expansion and contraction is more skillfully handled today, thanks to experience from past errors. Security markets are regulated now, and even stricter policing is being studied. Chicanery can be detected earlier, and retribution is swifter.

The business cycle of ups and downs probably hasn't been licked. What many dub the welfare state has furnished cushions for the worst bumps. Social Security, corporate pensions, jobless pay benefits, a start at retraining programs, all help ease the burden for the unemployed. They also help the economy by furnishing purchasing power once unknown.

The roles of government and business in regulating the economy have changed too.

Business is more cautious now, more aware that excesses such as marked and marred the '20s are to be avoided. Self-regulation — both out of self-interest and to stave off government intervention — is common at the company level, the industry level, and through organizations representing all business.

Government has taken on the task of easing recessions, fostering recoveries. Public works is the oldest spending tool, but also now used are defense, research and welfare programs.

It's this new look for the Sixaies — in government, in business, in labor — that lends confidence to those who see greater prosperity ahead, with only minor hesitations.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

New Firm Pioneering Process Of Restoring Vinyl Plastics

A new business—Vinylkote of Marin—will be opened Monday at 2160 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, by Robert Pack of Kentfield. The firm is pioneering a process of restoring and coloring leather and vinyl plastic upholstery used in furniture, automobiles and boats.

DR. K. LYNN HALL
Made senior chemist

Pack, who has been doing automobile refinishing in San Francisco for the past 20 years, claims his process is a money-saver in that it makes complete replacement of damaged materials unnecessary in many instances. Undoubtedly there are other people in the same business, he says, but he can't find one that advertises — except back in New York.

If the Marin plant is successful, Pack will spread into other areas.

PARTNERS Shirley Morgan and Cliff Pedersen in Cilpper Yacht Harbor, Sausalito, have become two of the principals in the "Ox Bow Marina," a million-dollar development of 40 acres in the Sacramento River delta region which may become the largest enclosed harbor in the Bay Area.

Located a mile southeast of Isleton and 10 miles south of Walnut Grove on the Ox Bow bend of the Georgiana Slough, the development will be built in several stages. First phase is expected to be completed by late summer with construction of 180 covered boat berths, 21 uncovered slips, recreation building, snack shop, fuel dock and launching ramp.

Eventually it will boast a restaurant, motel, bar, 105 sites for waterfront homes and a total of some 400 covered berths —everything to make a small-boat owner comfortable while away from his home dock. With the increasing interest in inland waters, Morgan and Pedersen predict they'll be kept continually busy.

Other men heading the project are Bay Area and delta boating figures active in the industry.

OLD CAR AFICIONADOS will envy Nick Reynolds of the Kingston Trio for his recent acquisition of a 1926 Rolls Royce station wagon. It is believed to be one of possibly three such vehicles in the entire world in workable condition. Making sure it does qualify for that description is Tom Parks, secretary of the Marin County unit of the Independent Garage Owners Assn. He is rebuilding all the car's running parts.

The station wagon body was built by a firm that used to make almost all of the Rolls Royce bodies in England—known as Wilkinson's.

DR. K. LYNN HALL of Terra Linda has been appointed senior research chemist in the petroleum products division of the California Research Corp. Richmond laboratory. Dr. Hall, who joined the laboratory staff in 1955, is engaged in the study of the cause and prevention of wear in internal combustion engines, and is concerned with the chemical reactions occurring on metal surfaces.

FRANK D. GEORGE, president of Redwood Travel Advisors, took off last week on a 16,000-mile journey to Israel—starting at the new Marin County Heliport which will now have mention on the airline maps of the world. He'll be back home at the end of this week; it doesn't take long to cover that distance these days.

WALL STREET CHATTER

Selling Pressures In Market Trend?

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kenneth Ward of Hayden, Stone and Company says that "no great market forecast can be made with any accuracy in terms of the distorted averages, for the averages include only a limited number of stocks."

"They cannot possibly represent a totally accurate picture of this broad, deceptive market trend which continues to indicate higher levels for some stocks, slightly lower levels for others and do-nothing action for still others. Notwithstanding the numerous optimistic forecasts being made for business and the economy many stocks have reached levels where they seem to have temporarily discounted most of the expected improvement in their respective pictures.

"From a purely technical, seasonal and psychological standpoint, any further near-term advance carrying much above the 800 level in the Dow-Jones Industrials is certain to meet considerable selling pressure."

TONE GOOD

Bache and Co. says "The overall tone of the market remains good as stocks refuse to move lower. This type of action indicates to us that the market direction continues to point upward over the near term.

"Moreover, a good case for higher prices can be made on a fundamental basis, as corporate profits appear to be in a good uptrend."

CAN ADVANCE

Colby and Co., Inc., thinks "the averages can advance another 10 points or so to 805-810 in the Dow Industrials before running into more than minor price difficulty. The calculated objective for the year remains 825-850; long term potential 925-950.

"It is not time for complacency on the part of short swing accounts but investors can continue to add to portfolios on weakness."

Dividend Declared

SAN FRANCISCO — The board of directors of Pacific Intermountain Express Co. has declared its regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents per share on its common stock. The dividend is payable April 1, 1964, to stockholders of record March 16, 1964.

Market Closes Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed lower today in heavy trading.

Volume was estimated at 5.6 million shares for the day, which would be near the highest of the week, compared with 5.35 million yesterday.

Profit taking clipped most of the early upsurge based on the actual signing into law of the 11.5-billion-dollar tax cut. Most of the changes were narrow although a number of key issues moved a point or so.

The Dow Jones industrial average hovered around the historic 800 mark, first exceeding it during the morning and then dropping back.

Aircraft issues maintained early gains with Douglas up nearly 2, Boeing and Lockheed up about 1 and United Aircraft and General Dynamics ahead fractions. One analyst said the buying stemmed from a report that the government space agency will negotiate with Douglas for purchase of eight more Delta launch vehicles.

Motor stocks were mostly ahead fractions as auto production this week was scheduled at a slight increase over last week and considerably higher than a year ago.

Steels, utilities, rails and chemicals were irregular. Metals, oils and airlines were mostly lower.

Marinites Purchase Moving Firm

Controlling interest in Smyth Worldwide Movers, Inc., of Seattle has been purchased by a group of Marin County investors, it has been announced by G. W. Smyth, president of the firm.

The purchasers were named as James H. Wilson, Hazel Thole and George Barnett, principals in San Rafael Associates, Inc., a San Rafael real estate development firm. All of the parties were said to be out of town and could not be reached for comment.

The sale includes seven subsidiaries — Smith International Van Lines, Inc.; Jetco, Inc.; Smyth Van and Storage of California, Inc.; Smyth Overseas Van Lines, Inc.; T and E Rentals, Inc.; Travel Headquarters, Inc., and Rossoe, Inc. The purchase price was not revealed.

Smyth Worldwide Movers is listed as an agent for North American Van Lines and operates 16 offices in California, Washington and Alaska. Pierce-Hardin Van and Storage, San Rafael agents for North American, said Smyth also has numerous other offices and agencies in Hawaii and the Far East.

BUSINESSMEN SEE RISK IN TAX CUT

Most Excited Over Measure But Feel It Could Lead To A Kind Of Inflation

NEW YORK (AP)—Many businessmen see a federal income tax cut as an exciting but possibly risky experiment.

It could lead to the kind of inflation, says Dr. Arnold O. Beckman, of Beckman Instruments in suburban Los Angeles, that could offset any benefits.

On the other hand, says Pollard Turman, president of J. M. Tull Metals Co., in Atlanta, "It could bring a surge that would put us in a brand new era of economic growth."

Business leaders interviewed recently on a cross-country tour gave varying estimates of the specific effects of the then-imminent, now actual (signed by President Lyndon B. Johnson yesterday) $11.5-billion tax reduction.

But all seemed agreed that tax rates have been too tight for hearty economic growth.

Some say the door should be left open for further cuts later, if this one works the way they hope it will.

"Tax rates have been oppressive," says John A. Barr, Chicago, chairman of Montgomery Ward and Co.

"This reduction is a good first step," Barr said. "It should not be considered as the end."

John F. Smith Jr., president of Inland Steel Co., said, "If these cuts don't speed up the economy, we'll have a whole new set of uncomfortable questions to ask."

Many businessmen have been skeptical of the theory that a tax cut could eventually balance the budget because it would step up business and produce additional tax revenue.

Bank Of England Interest Rates Up

LONDON (AP) — The British government raised the Bank of England interest rate today to 5 per cent—an increase of 1 per cent—following signs of strain on the nation's economy

A bank spokesman said the main purpose of the increase is to steady the nation's pace of economic expansion.

In recent months there have been signs that expansion has been proceeding too fast for the economy to bear with comfort.

Teachers Briefed On New Course For Them In Teaching Retarded

A new program of in-service training for teachers of educable mentally retarded children got under way yesterday.

The program, to last two and one-half years, will have, as a side product, the writing of a curriculum guide which could be used in other such schools.

Jerome Rothstein, professor of education at San Francisco State College, has been selected to head the program. Yesterday he met with 15 teachers in the program, operated by the Marin county superintendent of schools office, to explain what would happen.

Methods tried elsewhere to teach the mentally retarded will be tried extensively in Marin County, he said. Programmed teaching, teaching machines, new techniques used in industry but not in schools, and even ideas not yet tried will be investigated.

More important, he continued, the teachers will spend more time talking with each other about needs and problems. He said the present arrangement, with teachers at scattered schools throughout the county, leaves them too isolated to cooperate on projects.

There will be an attempt to design the curriculum guide so that any student can be transferred from one level of training or education to another, or one school to another, without forcing the new teacher to guess at what the child is capable of achieving.

In addition, said Daryl Hopkins, county director of special education, the guide may be a first step in devising a method of diagnosing just how far an individual mentally retarded child can go in his education.

The program is designed for teachers of children under high school age, but Rothstein said he wanted to talk to teachers at the high school level also, because better integration of the two groups is needed.

Studies in Wisconsin show conclusively, he said, that "in California we're starting vocational training too late when it is started at high school age. Too many students drop out of school at 16, before they have received enough vocational training."

The program is costing Marin County $2,500, said Hopkins. The county will also receive a major benefit from a federal program.

Three students working on graduate theses and paid by the U.S. will be used as curriculum consultants.

OLD INDIAN TRICK LANDS MAN IN JAIL AS AN ALARMING SUSPECT

A fire investigator, Jim Jordan, said he arrested Holmes walking backward in snow three blocks from a fire alarm box where a false report had been sounded.

Holmes, 20, was jailed for investigation.

In 1907 Dr. Hannah Graham, a woman physician in Indianapolis, made news by making house calls in an automobile instead of a horse and buggy.

One out of every seven American jobs is in the field of highway transportation, according to the National Automobile Club.

Tidelands Oil Rift Talks Begin

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A new attempt to settle the dispute over Long Beach tidelands oil revenues is in the works.

City officials plan to begin talks today with State Lands Commission staff members on a compromise settlement suggested by Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles).

The state and city now split the money 50-50, and city officials have been fighting proposals that all the money be turned over to the state.

Albion School Bids All Rejected

All bids for construction of the Nova Albion School in San Rafael were rejected last night by the Dixie school board after the lowest of seven bids came in at $296,000, 6 per cent over the engineer's estimate.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis said that new state directives require that bids be rejected when state funds are used for construction when bids are over estimate. Low bid was by Fostmeier Construction Co., Petaluma.

The board asked the architects to review the bids and revise plans so the job could be readvertised and new bids opened March 25.

A proposal for a new program for services to the educationally handicapped was held up for more study, at request of trustee Earl Koehler.

Willis said the proposal, which would qualify the district for special state aid, would merely be an extension of the present program of remedial teaching. The major change needed would be inclusion of a doctor or psychiatrist on the committee determinging which children enter the program.

The question of sabbatical leaves for teachers was put over until formal discussion of the budget.

The board agreed unanimously to vigorously oppose the Unruh bill on school district organization, which would automatically unify all school districts in each county except those in charter cities.

A study of comparative costs of other unification solutions, including the San Rafael High School District, was ordered to be made by the district staff.

A special meeting on teacher evaluation was set for Saturday morning. The March 11 meeting was officially canceled, with a meeting to be held either March 10 or 12 instead. At that time, budget recommendations of the staff and finance committee will be made.

Baby Dies Of Suffocation In Fairfax

A 28-day-old Fairfax infant died of suffocation yesterday shortly after his mother put him down in a car bed after his bottle.

Martin Edward Carpenter, son of Max Edward and Tamara D. Carpenter of 225 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, was pronounced dead by a doctor at 7:55 p.m. yesterday.

Assistant Coroner William C. Bradley said the mother had taken the baby with her to visit a sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert D. Carpenter at 30 Woodland Road, Fairfax.

Bradley said Mrs. Carpenter gave her baby a bottle at 5:30 p.m. and changed him shortly afterwards when he began crying. When she went to check on him at 7 p.m., he was blue and cold and there was blood at a corner of his mouth. Fairfax police, firemen and a doctor were called.

Bradley said an autopsy was to be conducted in an effort to determine what caused the suffocation.

In addition to his parents, the infant leaves grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Falkenstein and Mr. and Mrs. David Wisman.

Private funeral was held today at Sinai Memorial Chapel in San Francisco.

The world's deepest and hottest steam well near Brawley, has been drilled to a depth of more than 8,100 feet and has indicated bottom-hole temperatures of more than 800 degrees Fahrenheit.

Market Owner Uses Force To Hold Suspect

A 35-year-old Texas man, allegedly seen taking $140 cash from a till at Bret Harte Super Market, 93 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, was forcibly detained by the market's owner yesterday afternoon until police arrived.

Booked in Marin County jail for investigation of burglary was Leon Griffin, who gave a San Francisco address but told police he came to California from Austin, Tex., three weeks ago.

Store owner Lee Carl Johnson, 37, said today Griffin and a companion entered about 4 p.m. He said the companion approached a checker, Mrs. Vera Olson, and distracted her attention with an order for cigarettes while Griffin snatched the money from an open cash register.

Johnson said he was nearby and saw the theft. He subdued Griffin after a brief struggle and called police. The second man fled, however. Johnson recovered the money.

Bail for Griffin was set at $2,750 and hearing scheduled for 1:30 p.m. today in Marin Municipal Court. He has no known previous criminal record in California, police said.

Officers today were seeking his companion.

The market was looted of $400 in cash and groceries last Thursday. Two men, Ross Rod Love, 23, of 52 Harte Avenue, San Rafael, and Laurence Ray Parrott, 23, with the Navy in San Francisco are charged with the burglary.

Men Hired Provided They Furnish Office

VALKENSWAARD, Netherland (UPI)—The local tax office hired three men recently but told them to bring their own desk chairs.

This town will soon have a new tax office with matching furniture and the authorities did not want to add to old furniture to be discarded.

Two Marin Firms Due Licenses

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The contractors' state license board announced it plans to issue licenses to two San Rafael firms if no protests are received by March 11.

Weathercraft Aluminum Products, Inc., 4164 Redwood Highway, will be issued a specialty contractor's license for awnings and screens. The firm listed its officers as Allen Ward, president and manager; Clifford J. McAuliffe, vice president, and Colleen P. Ward, secretary treasurer.

Knocknaboul Way Annex On Agenda

Terra Linda Community Services District directors will meet in special session at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Terra Linda Community Building.

Main purpose of the special meeting is to decide how much it would cost each homeowner on Knocknaboul Way if they were to annex to the community services district, President Melvin Warenback announced.

Warenback said the directors may also discuss possibilities of an area-wide association to make the entire Terra Linda area a cohesive group.

Witness Tells Of U.S. Jew Killing Camp Chief

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) —An American Jewish woman doomed to the gas chambers at the Nazis' Auschwitz death camp killed the camp security chief with his own pistol, a former inmate told a war crimes trial today.

"That American lady shot him right in front of the gas chamber. She did us a wonderful favor," Dr. Otto Wolken told the court trying 22 former Auschwitz officials accused of mass murder during World War II.

Wolken, who served as an inmate doctor, said the woman was part of a group of American Jews with U.S. passports or visas who were brought to the death camp by the Nazis instead of being taken to neutral Switzerland as they had been promised.

He said the woman "realized it was Auschwitz and what it meant. She warned the others not to undress as they were told to.

"An SS man, Schillinger (the camp security chief), came to persuade them to undress for the showers," he said. The Nazi guards referred to the gas chambers as showers to keep from arousing prisoners' suspicions.

"But the woman grabbed his pistol and shot him. Then the American Jews were killed," Wolken said.

He said the SS took vengeance the next day "by firing into our camp. We had 13 dead. But Schillinger's death proved useful. The atmosphere was much better after that. The rabbit hunts stopped and the prisoners were not treated as brutally anymore."

Tomales School Pay Discussed

The Tomales Bay Union School District board discussed policies and salary schedules last night at a special study meeting at Tomales School.

Principal Floyd Billigmeier, has been compiling policies adopted by the board in the past. The trustees reviewed most of these, but did not take any action on adopting them as a whole, Billigmeier said.

The board also discussed salaries for next year, but postponed action until consideration of the budget.

School Boycott Views Differ

BOSTON (AP)—Education officials and Negro civil rights spokesmen differed sharply today over yesterday's boycott in which more than 10,000 children stayed away from public school classes.

The Rev. James P. Breeden, a Negro Episcopal minister who was co-chairman of the "stay out for freedom" demonstration, said he viewed it as a "complete success."

But School Supt. William H. Ohrenberger said, " I cannot view this event as a victory for anyone."

Knowland: 'Eastern Liberals' Would Destroy State's GOP

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "If they cannot control the party in California, they are prepared to destroy it," says former Sen. William F. Knowland. "In this, they will not succeed."

Knowland, California manager of Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater's campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, was speaking of what he called "the eastern liberal establishment."

The particular target at Knowland's news conference yesterday was GOP National Committeeman Joseph Martin Jr., who announced Tuesday that he planned to work for the nomination of New York's Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Knowland said he had noted with regret that Martin had become "the political hatchet man for the eastern liberal establishment in trying to make California a political and economic province."

Martin in disclosing his plans to campaign for Rockefeller, said his decision was prompted by "a sincere desire to prevent the Republican Party in California from becoming a mere branch of the John Birch Society."

Martin said that Goldwater was the only candidate "vigorously supported by the Birchers and the rightist lunatic fringe."

"Inevitably," he said, "Goldwater's victory will be their victory . . ."

Knowland said Martin's statement was unjust to "hundreds of thousands of dedicated Republicans" in the Goldwater movement.

He said Martin was given the assignment of starting a "rule or ruin movement" because of what he called a Goldwater ground swell of substantial proportions in California.

Governor Names State Education Board Members

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Attorney Milton L. Schwartz, who led the fight to outlaw fraternities and sororities in Sacramento high schools, was appointed to the State Board of Education today by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The 44-year-old Republican succeeds Donald M. Hart of Bakersfield, whose term expired.

At the same time, Brown reappointed board members Mrs. Talcott Bates of Carmel and Dr. Daniel A. Collins of Mill Valley. They are also Republicans.

As a member of the Sacramento City Board of Education, Schwartz charged the social clubs interfered with education and were undemocratic. He persuaded the board to ban them—an action that has been challenged in court by the clubs.

1960 MG Car Stolen From Sweeney Lot

Theft of a 1960 MG automobile from their used car lot was reported to San Rafael police yesterday by E. F. Sweeney British Cars, 523 Francisco Boulevard.

The car was taken between 8 p.m. Tuesday and 10:30 a.m. yesterday, officers said.

Law Says Negro Shot By Brother

BATON ROUGE, La., (UPI) — Murphy Bell, a Negro civil rights attorney here, was recuperating today from a gunshot wound apparently inflicted by his brother.

Police Chief Wingate White said Bruce Bell, 45, also an attorney, shot his brother, then killed himself in the anteroom of their law office yesterday.

East Baton Rouge Dist. Atty. Sargent Pitcher Jr., said the two men apparently had a "falling out" over money.

Bagley To Introduce Bill For Fourth Marin Superior Court

A bill to create a fourth superior court for Marin County will be introduced next week when the state legislature reconvenes in Sacramento.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley (R-San Rafael) is working on a bill for the new court, with the backing of the Marin County Bar Assn. A similar bill last year was turned down by the governor because the California Judicial Council decided a new court was not justified at that time.

Marin's three superior court judges are Thomas F. Keating, N. Charles Brusatori and Richard M. Sims Jr. If a fourth court is set up, the governor will fill the bench by appointment.

Assemblyman Bagley is also preparing two other bills for introduction next week.

One is a bill to set up a rapid transit district for Marin County. The bill is similar to the one introduced last year but adds a paragraph pointing out that the Marin transit district would be incorporated into a larger Bay Area district when that is feasible.

Last year's bill was vetoed by the governor on grounds that he wanted a Bay Area-wide transit district, not smaller fragments.

Another bill in the hopper is a measure to raise court reporter's pay in Marin from the present $35 a day to $45. The last pay raise for court reporters in Marin was in 1955, when the amount went up from $25 to $35.

In civil cases, the litigants pay for court reporters' fees. In criminal cases, the county pays the fees. However, in trials involving San Quentin inmates, the state reimburses the county for the costs including court reporters' fees.

Optometrists Aiding Ailing Kermit Kors

Seven good Samaritans are taking turns working half-days for fellow optometrist Kermit Kors of San Rafael, who has had to drop his practice for a month because of a troublesome ulcer.

The men, members of the Marin Optometric Society, have been handling Kors' patients for two weeks and, according to optometrist John W. Hoag of Mill Valley, public information officer of the society, "It's been working out very well." Kors expects to be back on the job in two weeks.

Meeting Postponed

The Novato Fire District board did not hold its regular meeting last night because two members were ill and unable to attend.

State's Income Will Benefit From Tax Cut

SACRAMENTO (AP) — State officials say the federal income tax cut will help California's economy by producing more state sales, income and other tax revenues.

Ralph Curry, chief financial economist for the Department of Finance, estimated yesterday the state would take in 41.5 million dollars more in 1964-65 through anticipated extra spending and more jobs.

He estimated the additional revenue in 1965-66 at 80 million dollars, 103 million dollars in 1966-67, and more than 100 million dollars a year thereafter.

The state, just like millions of individuals, had figured how it would spend the extra money even before the tax cut bill was passed, and included it in the 1964-65 budget now under consideration by the legislature.

Wife Of Italian Worker Has Quads

TURIN, Italy (AP) — The wife of a southern Italian laborer who moved to this busy north Italian city to find work gave birth to quadruplets yesterday.

Doctors said Rosa Ferrara de Francesco, 26, and the four babies—three boys and a girl—were in good condition.

4 Intoxicated Drivers Fined

Four men were fined yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving on streets and highways in Marin.

Richard James Burrill, 57, of 500 Quietwood Drive, Marinwood, arrested Feb. 17 on North San Pedro Road, was fined $110. George Joseph McSweeney, 47, of San Francisco, arrested Feb. 23 on Fourth Street in San Rafael, was fined $144.

Harry Maudy, 39, of Richmond, arrested Feb. 15 on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, and Robert Edward Sanders, 31, of Petaluma, arrested Feb. 8 on Highway 101, both paid fines of $166.

2. Called for bids to be opened March 11 on 2,000 feet of four-inch asbestors pipe, 20,000 feet of 6-inch pipe, 10,000 feet of 8-inch pipe and 4,000 feet of 10-inch pipe.

3. Called for bids to be opened March 25 on eight one-half ton pick-up trucks, one three-quarter ton truck with four wheel drive, one two-yard and one four-yard dump truck, and one two-ton truck chasis.

4. Authorized purchase of 1,000 feet of 12-inch pipe from Southern Pipe and Casing Co. of Los Angeles.

5. Agreed to split the $270 damage claim of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for damage done to electrical equipment at the Southern Marin pump station.

6. Approved an agreement with the North Marin Water District to handle its radio maintenance.

7. Agreed to share the $1,010 cost of replacing a bridge in Deer Park, Fairfax, with the Fairfax School District

8. Retained Neils Brodsgar as appraiser for the Mann tank site in San Anselmo.

9. Renewed insurance on the district's water tanks at an annual premium of $750 a year for full coverage and purchased an insurance policy on the large plate glass windows in the district offices.

Car Vandalized

Someone broke the radio aerial and slashed the seat covers of her car while it was parked at 45 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, yesterday afternoon, Rosemary Tomey of 47 Nokomis Avenue, San Anselmo, reported to San Rafael police.

ODDS AGAINST SCHOOL HEAD SMOKING AGAIN

PORT HUENEME, Ventura County (AP)—School Supt. O. Dean Green has quit smoking.

He had promised he would if voters approved a 2.5-million-dollar finance plan for school construction.

The plan was approved by a 6-1 majority at an election Tuesday.

The odds were against Green from the start. Voters in his district have never turned down a school bond issue.

College Trustees Due Report On Gym

The Marin Junior College District board will hear a report that Leroy Construction Services of San Francisco has been hired to do a quantity survey on the replacement cost of the burned gymnasium, at its meeting today at 8 p.m. in Room 61 of the Art Building.

The board will also be asked to approve eight proposed programs for a college radio program on radio Station KTIM. The programs, as outlined, will be one-hour panel discussions on Monday nights from March 30 to May 18.

Many Marin City Families Are Out Of Renewal Project

About a third of the 120 families to be evicted from Marin City homes for an urban renewal project do not qualify for new housing in Marin city, Betty Pierce, head of the minority housing subcommittee, told the Marin committee on Urban Development last night.

She said redevelopment agency director Donald O. Stutsman had told her these families, either because they earned too much money, or too little, or had families of the wrong size, would not qualify for low cost housing the apartments, home building sites, or cooperative apartments.

Two new subcommittees were formed by the group. Domenic Pensabene was named chairman of a subcommittee to study building codes violations and enforcement. Wendell D. Ames was named to head a subcommittee on planning and zoning.

Cuba To Negotiate On Seized Refinery

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Havana Radio said today that the Cuban government has taken first steps to negotiate with Shell Oil Co. over compensation for seizure of the firm's Havana refinery in 1960.

The Fidel Castro government seized the 28-million-dollar Shell plant along with Esso and Texaco refineries after the three refused to comply with a government order to refine Russian petroleum.

Youth Wins Contest For His Speech

Phil Cassou, Marin Catholic High School senior, was declared winner of the San Rafael Lions Club student speaker contest in San Rafael yesterday.

Runner-up was Holly Childhouse, also of Marin Catholic High.

Cassou, who is student body president, will compete with other Marin County Lions Club winners at the Mill Valley Golf and Country Club, March 10.

All competitors were from Marin Catholic High School, none being entered by San Rafael High, which is also in the club's contest area.

Lion chairman of the contest was Bernard Seligman. Judges were Jess Parker of Crocker-Citizens National Bank, Dr. Michell L. Voydat, assistant superintendent of San Rafael High School District, and D. K. MacDonald Jr., attorney.

Carol Bradley was winner in the Mill Valley Lions Club student speaker contest Tuesday night for her speech on "Moral Integrity Imperative for Survival."

Miss Bradley, also a student at Marin Catholic High School, lives at 223 Crescent Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base.

Runners-up were Joyce Williams of Fort Baker and Robert Murphy Jr. of Mill Valley, both Tamalpais High School students.

Sausalito Candidates Invited To Speak

The Sausalito Citizens Council will hold a meeting at 8 p.m., March 25, to permit the 10 candidates for city council an opportunity to address the voters of the city, Carl W. Spring, corresponding secretary, said today.

Seven men and three women have announced they will run for the three seats at stake in the April 14 election.

OH, 200 BARRELS OF BEER ON THE WALL . . .

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — Harriet E. Brooks, who estimates she has drunk two pints of beer a day since she was 18, will receive free beer the rest of her life.

The reward came from a brewery in Birmingham yesterday after she proved to the firm's satisfaction that she had drunk 200 barrels of its beer.

Mrs. Brooks is 91.

Backer Of Seat Belts Proves Point

Paul D. Fry, president of the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce which has carried on a two-year campaign for installation of automobile seat belts, is more than ever convinced of their usefulness.

Fry, with John McKeeham of the Ukiah Junior Chamber, walked away unhurt from an accident at 5 p.m. Sunday that could have been serious.

The two were towing a 20-foot house trailer behind Fry's car from Oroville to Ukiah after a junior chamber meeting.

At Cold Creek on Highway 20 near Highway 101, the trailer went out of control, threw Fry's car off the road before breaking loose.

Fry's 1959 station wagon went down a 30-foota embankment into the stream. Fry and McKeeham unfastened their seat belts and crawled over the hood to the bank. Neither was hurt.

Baseball Pitcher Booked As Drunk

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former Dodger pitcher Ed Roebuck was booked on suspicion of drunken driving last night after his car hit another in the rear, police said.

Roebuck, 32, is now with the Washington Senators.

Vault Door Was Open—Good Reason

LEBANON, Ky. (AP) — A motorist driving past the Bank of Loretto noticed the vault door was standing open and immediately called State Police.

They surrounded the building and learned the truth—the bank had moved down the street two days earlier.

Fairfax Chief Acts Quickly To Save Own Girl

Fairfax Police Chief James Orr, who has to act quickly and calmly in answering all emergency calls, had a rough time of it at 5 p.m. yesterday when rushing to the aid of a 10-year-old girl.

It was his own daughter, Janice. She had fallen on an outside stairway at 187 Meernaa Avenue, Fairfax, the home of a friend. She could not get up.

Chief Orr called a doctor and the girl was taken to Marin General Hospital. He reported today she had suffered a crushed lower vertebrae, would be in the hospital about 10 days and in a brace for several weeks.

CONTROVERSIAL PLAY OPENS

This is a scene from the play, "The Deputy," which opened on Broadway in New York last night. Co-stars are Emlyn Williams, seated on throne, playing Pope Pius XII, and Jeremy Brett, kneeling, who portrays a priest. Fred Stewart has the part of a cardinal. The play charges that Pius XII failed in a moral responsibility to speak out openly against Hitler's wartime extermination of Jews. The theater was picketed by persons who carried placards as numerous police stood by. It was quiet inside the theater except for applause after each of the seven scenes in presentation by producer-director Herman Shumlin. (AP Wirephoto)

Fire Hits Acre Of Art Center Trees

The blaze broke out between the outdoor theater and Skyline Road. It raged through about an acre of the big trees, leaving their trunks charred and destroying leaf mould and underbrush beneath them, before being extinguished by the Ross Fire Department with assistance of a truck from the San Anselmo Fire Department.

Ross firemen were called at 4:45 p.m. and found the blaze well advanced, with heavy smoke pouring from the trees. The smoke promptly brought out a large share of the residents of Ross to watch the fire.

A half dozen eighth grade boys from Ross School were among the first to arrive and assisted firemen until the San Anselmo department arrived.

The blaze was controlled within a half hour and extinguished within an hour, the Ross Fire Department reported. No structure at the Art and Garden Center was damaged.

His wife, Evelyn, said that when her husband is able to retire from the Navy on pension in nine years they hope to go into evangelistic church work.

The Lewises have four children, ages 5 to 13.

Marinites Get Backing From Basic Education Director

People who believe the standard disciplines of subject matter should be strengthened in public schools were offered assistance by a San Rafael visitor yesterday.

The visitor was Mortimer Smith, who is executive director of the Council for Basic Education with headquarters in Washington, D.C.

The council has only about 2,000 dues-paying members, said Smith, and does not campaign for wide membership. But he feels it exerts infuence beyond its numerical strength through sponsoring studies of public school curriculms. One such study recently (financed, like other council projects, through a foundation grant) resulted in publication of the book, "High School English Textbooks: A Critical Examination," by James J. Lynch and Bertrand Evans, University of California professors.

The council aids also, said Smith, in providing information for writers, school boards, superintendents and members of the public who are studying how to strengthen curricula of American public schools. He disclosed that it has assisted school boards, on occasion, in finding superintendents who agreed that the standard disciplines outweigh in importance the "life adjustment" emphasized by "progressive educationists."

Smith is on a western tour combining visits to Council for Basic Education members with calls on foundations to raise funds for council operation. In San Rafael, he was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Strom of 260 Linden Lane.

Marichal Joins S. F. Giants After $15,000 Raise

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP) — Juan Marichal, likely to be the leading San Francisco Giants pitcher for the next decade, reports to spring training Monday—only a week late after winning his contract war.

Marichal, a 25-game winner in 1963, signed yesterday for an estimated $40,000 — a hike of about $15,000 from his salary of a year ago.

He was the last Giant to sign as last year's third-placers avoided for the first time in several years any prolonged holdouts.

Marichal agreed to terms in a telephone conversation from Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, with Giants' vice president Charles Feeney.

Marichal joined the Giants in mid-1960, pitched a one-hitter in his debut and went on to a 6-2 record. He moved to 13-10 and 18-11 the next two seasons despite disabling injuries each September.

But last year he hit the top with a 25-8 record and a victory total matched only by Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The right-hander rolled up a 2.41 earned run average and led the National League in innings worked with 321. He struck out 248 and yielded only 55 unintentional walks.

Manager Alvin Dark has already paid Marichal the compliment of saying he'll play for one run anytime Juan pitches in Candlestick Park.

Marichal, who is only 26, beat the pennant-winning Dodgers four times last year.

Among those Giants already limbering up at this desert training base, most attention was focused on Jim Ray Hart and Del Crandall.

Hart, a rookie who has been handed the starting third base job, suffered a muscle spasm in his shoulder but was reported in good shape after a rubdown.

Crandall, veteran catcher obtained from Milwaukee, reported for his first workout and learned he may bat second in the Giants' order when he subs for Tom Haller.

'He does a good job in that spot," explained Dark. "He gets a piece of the ball and moves runners along."

SAD FACT: CLAY BELIEVES HE IS ACTUALLY RULER OF THE RING

By OSCAR FRALEY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (UPI) — The most nauseating part of Cassius Clay being the heavyweight champion of the world today is the fact that he believes he really is the ruler of the ring.

Cassius admits that he huckstered his way into a title bout. And he says flatly that he believes Sonny Liston could have continued instead of throwing in the towel at the end of the sixth round of their title bout.

Which comes out that he either beat a one-armed man or a feller who took a swan dive into a damp rag.

So you have to think that Cassius is a man knocking on a window with a sponge after months of sounding off like a convention of caliopes. That's because he insists that now, as the somewhat disputed heavyweight champion of the world, he is going to become a quiet champion.

"If you're a politician," says Cassius will all the aplomb of Zsa Zsa in a five and dime, "You have to go around making a lot of noise, handing out pamphlets and impressing people. You got to make a ton of noise. But now, once you're elected, you can just take it easy and sorta go to sleep."

There are some who were on hand in Miami Beach Convention Hall who thought that he should have been put to sleep in the fifth round. Sonny the deposed hit him three stiff right-hand shots over the heart and Cassius settled down on his O'Sullivans like King Levinsky with two armloads of neckties. Why, even a one-armed Liston didn't slug him to sleep must remain paramount among such questions as to why Lee's support never came up at Gettysburg.

Had Liston pulled off what was expected, then Clay's future would have been very certain. Gaseous could have had a much more secure future as one of the Madison Avenue boys. He's one of the greatest merchants since that gent from Venice who was halted only by a gallon of unwelcome corpuscles.

Gaseous says with bland innocence that he knows from nothing about who will be his next opponent, or where or when.

But Garland (Bill) Cherry, attorney for Sonny Liston's International Promotions—strictly was a business firm devoted to making dollars out of dimes—wasn't whistling Dixie when he said that Clay had been paid $50,000 so that Liston's entourage could name all those propositions.

There was a slight suspicion in this corner that Liston had the firepower to be one of the greatest of champions. If you have some faith, a little smidgin of hope and, at this moment, a great deal of charity, you still might feel that this man from nowhere was cheated once again by the fates who dealt him a brutal blow in damaging his left arm at a great moment of crisis.

Personally, I think he should have gone down battling with one gallant arm, if this could be so. In all honesty, I just don't know, and I have been closer to the situation than most.

But I still do not regard Cassius Marcellus Clay as a worthy heavyweight champion of the world—even if he finally shuts his mouth before somebody closes it for him.

Leaders Survive Fifth Day Of ABC Tourney

OAKLAND (AP)—The leaders in all divisions of the 61st American Bowling Congress tournament survived the fifth day of the 65-day pin classic without a serious threat.

Ed Rowland of Sunnyvale took second place in the singles division with a 652 series, but was far off the 670 pace set last Sunday by Loren Teall of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Rowland, 42, an office clerk, rolled games of 181, 244 and 227. He opened the day with a 623 doubles series, but was not eligible for an all-events total because he was not scheduled in the team event.

Dave Stratton and Ken Hobson of Oakland combined for a fourth place 1,189, the best score yesterday in the doubles division. Travers Gross and Chuck Kincaid of Castroville, Calif., command the two-man category with the 1,226 they shot Tuesday.

Sanford Looks Like Streamlined Teen-ager At Giant Training Camp

Jack Hanley

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. — Jack Sanford, just a couple of months away from his 35th birthday, is no youngster. But the six-foot Giant righthander looks like a teen-ager this spring with his crew cut haircut and a trim 187 pounds.

That's the lightest Sanford ever has been in his major league career which started in 1957 when he won National League rookie of the year honors with a 19-8 record for the Phillies. While being wined and dined on the winter banquet circuit that year, Sanford ballooned to almost 220. His 1958 record was a most disappointing 10-13 so the Phillies traded him to the Giants.

EVER SINCE Sanford has been weight conscious, but he was unable to get under 200 pounds until the spring of 1962. That was a Giant pennant year and a big one for Sanford, too. He was 24-7 in '62 although he completed only 13 of his wins.

Last spring Sanford even bettered his 1962 reporting weight. He came in at 193 a year ago. But he didn't come close to his remarkable string of 24 wins. He finished the 1963 season 16-13 and that cost him a $2,500 salary slash from $40,000 to $37,500.

"MY WEIGHT was alright last year," Sanford said. "I started at 193 and finished the season at 200. And my pitching was no different in '63 than it was in '62. The bullpen didn't save me like in '62.

"This year I feel stronger than I've even been at 187. To get down to that weight I kept a careful watch on the starches. I used to eat six or seven loaves of bread a week. I stopped that. And I bypassed the potatoes but not other vegetables. Steaks I still love. I put away two of them last Monday night, our first in spring camp this year.

"I WORKED hard during the winter to get my weight down to the lowest mark in my major league career. Pushing away from the table wasn't easy for me. But that's the only way I can beat the weight problem most athletes face.

"To keep in condition I worked out daily at the high school in Duxbury (Mass.), playing basketball, volleyball and throwing a baseball around.

"All of this is part of a planned campaign to get back that pay cut—and more. I think it will be successful because Bob Shaw is in our bullpen this year."

SHAW IS a powerfully built 6-2 righthander who seems to thrive on prodigious amounts of work, as a starter or reliever.

"We gave up a couple of potent bats in the deal for him," said Sanford, referring to Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey, now with Milwaukee. "Together Alou and Bailey knocked in 150 runs last year. Still, I got to like the trade because of Shaw. If we had him in the bullpen last year, I know we have to win a dozen more games. And only four more would have made me a 20-game winner for the second time."

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

MIAMI, Fla.—Scatterhawk Dixon, 169, Miami, knocked out Eddie Agin, 166, Key West, Fla., 3.

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — The San Francisco Warriors take on St. Louis in a key National Basketball Assn. battle tonight.

The Warriors lead St. Louis by two games in Western Division play and could really use a victory tonight. That would give San Francisco a three-game bulge as the Warriors face three more games in as many days.

They meet Boston tomorrow, New York Saturday and Detroit Sunday.

The rugged schedule should not be good news for Wilt Chamberlain, who is battling both a bruised elbow and a sore knee. But he hit 52 points Tuesday against Cincinnati in spite of the injuries and says he is ready to go through the remaining 13 games of the season and the play-offs that will follow.

Seals Whip Denver Invaders

The squeeze was on today in the middle of the Western Hockey League in the battle for playoff berths.

San Francisco picked up two points last night by outskating league-leading Denver, 6-2, before 6,339 Cow Palace fans. Portland and Los Angeles collected one point apiece before 7,679 fans at the Ice Palace.

Denver has already clinched first, and Seattle is in second with 58 points. Portland has 56, Los Angeles 55, and San Francisco 54. It's that close.

Denver, playing its fifth game in seven nights, scored off San Francisco after 31 seconds of action, but from then on, the Seals took over.

The Seals have seven of their last 11 games at home and may be ready to oust someone from the playoffs, although Denver may have been flat last night because of its busy schedule and its having clinched first place the night before.

Cliff Schmautz of Portland scored after 3:35 of the final stanza against Los Angeles and there were no more goals the rest of the way, including the 10-minute overtime stanza.

Tom McCarthy and Tommy McVie also scored for Portland and Marc Boileau, Gordy Haworth and Leo Labine tallied for the visitors.

Peak Years: 28 To 32

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Alex Hannum, coach of the San Francisco Warriors, says a basketball player is still learning the game until he reaches the age of 28. He believes a player's peak years are between 28 and 32.

More Information Given About Citizens Band (CB) For Boaters

Last week this column carried information regarding Citizens Band for boaters—especially the small-boat owner. Now Ken Watts continues:

"Since I have made up my mind to get a pair of walkie-talkies, and decided on the nine-transistor, 100 miliwatt unit because the little four-transistor unit seemed to be too much of a toy, the question came up, Should I just walk in and buy, or should I consider one of these 'do it yourself' kits? After pricing ready made units, I decided to buy a kit. I felt I could get better quality for the price I could afford.

"AFTER considerable thinking on the subject I finally decided on the 'Heathkit' and placed an order for a pair of units at $44.95 each. This is for future planning in case I become more serious minded and wish to go into the larger five-watt unit. The walkie-talkies will then become part of my network. In other words, I will have the base unit and can communicate with several of the smaller units on a given channel.

"I feel sure the idea of radio communication between members of the club on outings will enhance the togetherness we are trying to achieve, and has its practical side too.

"The foregoing, is a history of how I got involved in the whole thing. You wanted to know some of the facts, so I will try to outline them for your information.

"1. ADVANTAGES—Unlike Marine Radio, CB covers a smaller area, therefore less interference from a lot of jabber not pertaining to your immediate interest. One has a choice of channels and quite conceivably can have his own network. It costs less, therefore, it is within reach of most of us. No examination or tests required, no license for units rating less than one watt. They are portable, easy to install, do not require licensed technicians for installation. CB is here to stay and can be used for emergency because it is a party line and some one is bound to hear your call and will relay any important messages for you. They are very handy for directing from shore, such as rescue, races, or any water activity, or even trailering directions along the highway. They can be used by anyone (within certain F.C.C. regulations of course).

2. DISADVANTAGES—Limited power, therefore limited range. Interference from industry and hospital electrical equipment such as diathermy machines. But, where would you find one of these in operation on S.F. Bay or Lake Berryessa, especially within this limit of five miles or less of our operation? They are not monitored by the Coast Guard, no weather reports and so effective only in line of sight. Islands, hills, bends in the river, or thick forest will cut off contact. This could be an advantage because should we find the air occupied by other CBers in the area, we simply get behind an island or around the point and be free again.

"The disadvantages are not many when we consider how we are to use these units.

"I am of opinion that CB is the answer to the outboarders communication problem, and even while the number of CB sets approach 2,000,000, it by no means covers the American waters. Plenty of room remains.

"I should have my units within a couple of weeks and will let you know how they work."

Marin Catholic J.V. Cagers Win League Title

Marin Catholic's junior varsity basketball team won the Marin Athletic League J.V. championship Tuesday when the cagers downed Tamalpais High School's J.V. team 47-21.

The victory ended Marin's league record at 11-1. Overall record for the junior Wildcats was 19-3. Three Marin Catholic cagers ended up Tuesday's game in double figures. Bob Lombardi has 17 points, Mike Lasater had 15 and Vin Sherry had 12.

The Marin Catholic frosh team ended its season the same day with a 35-34 overtime triumph over Tam. John Grady, Marin's top scorer with 11 points, made a 30-foot shot with only one second remaining in the overtime period to give Marin the victory.

UCLA Dominates Cage Statistics

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Tournament-bound UCLA dominates latest Big Six statistics in both the team and individual scoring departments.

The fast-breaking Bruin offense has averaged 85 points per game in rolling to 12 straight victories. That's 15 more points than second place Stanford.

The Bruins are also tops in field goal accuracy (.448) and rebounding (.541). Stanford leads in free throws (.732) and California in defense (61 points per game).

Gail Goodrich cof the Bruins would seem to have the scoring title locked up with 264 points in 12 games for a 22.0 average. Tom Dose of Stanford is second (19.6), Walt Hazzard of UCLA third (18.5), Al Young of USC (17.3) and Dan Wolthers of Cal fifth (14.6).

Recipe For Sea Food Casserole Given; Steelhead Fishing Bad

STEVENS

To keep the promise made in Tuesday's column, here is the Sea Food Casserole recipe Frances Skidmore brought back from Key West:

Add to some fish fillets—scallops sauted in butter . . . some cooked and peeled shrimps . . . can of mushrooms . . . an onion chopped fine, and seasoning as desired. Arrange the above in shallow baking dish, pour over it a can of Snow's clam chowder, sprinkle grated cheese on top and bake in medium oven until done—about 30 minutes or so. Sounds simple enough, doesn't it? Mrs. Skidmore swears it is delicious.

ABOUT those "Fish Fillets." Don't expect to get 'em from the steelhead unless you are exceptionally lucky. Unless there happens a fairly light rain — enough to dapple the surface of the water, but not enough to muddy it—you can just about write off steelheading for this season. Your chances of bass fillets is just about a case of weather. High wind and rough water has hampered striper striving in the San Pablo Bay and the entire Delta Region.

With calm weather it should be easy to connect, though. Plenty of fish around. That was proved over the weekend when Tom Pyle of Fremont, and friend, landed four 14 pounders on Saturday out of the Rodeo Marina, where, on Saturday, Jack Ferdinand and Bob Wolfinger limited to 18 pounds. On Sunday, near Buoy 8, angler George Round hooked and landed a 22-pound salmon and a medium sized striper. Also, some sort of a record was set on Sunday when seven sturgeon were unloaded at the Marina. The monsters ran to 85 pounds.

ON THE Marin side of the San Pablo, results were on a par with the Contra Costa side. Not limits all around, but between 1½ to 2 fish per rod.

I wish I had the space to quote verbatim, a letter just received from H. G. Quiggle of Purdue Avenue in Berkeley. It describes a truly wonderful fishing trip he and three buddies made to San Felipe, Baja, California. It gives full details on the trip and tells of some fabulous fishing for Pintos, Triggerfish, small and large Corvinas, Sierras, and the extremely tasty Sargento. He even caught an 18-pound white sea bass. As Quiggle wrote:

"FOR TWO solid hours it was one continuous series of strikes. At the end of that time we had a large wicker basket flopping full of fish to 15 pounds in weight!"

I gather that Quiggle, and his pals, did this exciting angling from a skiff with a native guide. Easy to imagine the high degree of sport they had if using light tackle, as I assume they were. I repeat I wish I could quote the letter in toto, but, if any of you are interested in making a similar trip, why not contact angler Quiggle. I'm betting he'll be happy to furnish the details.

If your trigger finger itches, remember you can get in some shotgun operation aiming and firing at the long-eared rodents—the California jack rabbit—at the Gray Lodge Waterfowl Management Area on this and the following weekend. No reservations and no fee. Just drive to Gridley, thence eight miles southwest to Gray Lodge. Be ready to check in at 8 a.m., and have fun. DON'T DISDAIN THESE BEASTIES! When properly prepared they are might good eating.

Drysdale Signs For $70,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale has signed a contract for a reported $70,000—making him the highest-paid player in Dodger history.

Los Angeles general manager Buzzy Bavasi said: "I think Don has been very reasonable in his demands."

A club spokesman said Drysdale received in the neighborhood of $45,000 last year and was rewarded with a $25,000 raise.

AWARD WINNER

The tall, side-winding right-hander, won 25 games and the Cy Young award in 1962. Last year he won 19 and lost 17 to bring his career record to 123-90.

The 27-year-old pitcher notched an earned run average of 2.63. He started 42 games, worked 315 innings and struck out 251 batters—a career high and the fourth time he has struck out 200 men in a season. Christy Mathewson fanned 200 or more batters in six seasons.

SHUTOUT

Drysdale hurled shutout ball for the last two innings to preserve a 5-3 National League lead in the All-Star game and tossed a three-hit shutout to defeat the New York Yankees, 1-0 in the third game of the World Series.

Drysdale's signing leaves only three Dodgers unsigned—Sandy Koufax, Maury Wills and Frank Howard.

Little Tom O'Hara Goes For Three Records Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-mile that promises to be a classic and a mile that offers the potential of three—count 'em—three records, features tonight's Knights of Columbus indoor track and field games.

Tom O'Hara, Chicago's record-breaking little mile marvel, will be timed at three-quarters of a mile, 1500 meters and the full mile, each with an eye toward a record, in his last Madison Square Garden appearance of the winter.

The 21-year-old, 5-foot-9 Loyola student was timed in an unofficial 3:01.6—just four-tenths of a second off the listed mark—for three-quarters route to his indoor record 3:56.6, two weeks ago.

This got the K of C officials thinking along a why-not sort of line. So, they'll put the clock on him on all three distances, and just hope that someone in the field gives him a run for the first three-quarters.

Getting that competition, as he did from John Camien on his record romp, is highly necessary for O'Hara. He insists that he runs only to win, and has gone as high as 4:07.4 in his unbeaten string this winter.

Marin City Study Center Success Creates Growth

Success of the Marin City Study Center at Sausalito's Richardson Bay School, plus requests from younger students to join, have resulted in creation of a study center program for fourth and fifth grade pupils which starts March 10.

It is sponsored by the American Red Cross, Marin County chapter, and the Sausalito School District.

The Marin City Study Center, formed last fall, is open to ninth and 10th graders from Tamalpais High School Monday at 7 p.m. and for sixth, seventh and eighth graders, Tuesday at 7 p.m., at Richardson Bay School.

The new study center will be held each Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. for a one-hour period at the same school. Supt. Marcus F. Davis said the center, which has about one volunteer teacher or tutor for each six pupils, was precipitated because younger students asked for a place to study.

Tutors are being recruited by the Red Cross. An orientation meeting of teachers and tutors will be held at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday at the school, and a parents orientation meeting at 7:30 pm. that same day. Robert D. Thomson, school principal, is program dean.

"The goal of our program is to provide the encouragement and individual attention that enable the youngsters, early in their education, to find school an enjoyable, rewarding and successful experience," said Rev. David C. Jacobsen of Sausalito, chairman of the study center advisory committee.

Is Consumer Tired Of Playing The Game Of 'Over-Design'?

NEW YORK (UPI)—Industrial designers have set off a great guessing game with "over-design," and the consumer is getting tired of playing it.

So charges a leading industrial designer who chides his confreres for creating car door handles so carefully disguised that they can't be found; lamps that have no apparent means of being turned on; and washing machine control panels that might belong to a spaceship.

Walter P. Margulies, president of an industrial design and marketing consultant firm, said that "designers sometimes smoke too much of their own opium."

"DESIGN IS GREAT," he said, "but it's got to be design with a purpose."

"The consumer will take just so much of what we call 'designy-design.' Then he's going to say, 'stop trying to kid me.' Quite a few people already are saying it."

Margulies commented that "cute" design can be a safety hazard too.

He cited various models of automobiles as an example.

"All too frequently, the car you rent today presents quite a different set of controls than the one you drove yesterday. The hunt for 'exotic' push-buttons, handles, knobs and other gadgets that operate the windshield wiper, radio, windows, heater, defroster and what-have-you can take a lot of attention from driving."

MARGULIES SAID kitchen ranges and washing machines whose control panels look as if they belonged to a radar unit may feed housewives' egos for a while.

"But when the novelty wears off, she is going to ask some basic questions about their usefulness."

He said manufacturers often underestimate the general level of intelligence and discrimination.

"I'M NOT SAYING that the consumer should be the designer," he continued. "But the consumer's legitimate needs must be reckoned with to guide the professional. . . ."

Writer Says Russian Youth Not Growing Up With War Outlook

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Soviet children are growing up convinced their ideology will prevail over all other political systems through "peaceful evolution" and without the need of military force.

So concludes Jules Power, a television producer and writer who spent five weeks in Russia filming its children in classroom, at play, at home, at parties inside the Kremlin walls, and at Pioneer palaces where the education for Communist Party membership begins.

"SOVIET CHILDREN are not super-children, nor will they grow into super-men," said Power. "They are children . . . fat ones, thin ones, smart ones, stupid ones, some who want to be cosmonauts, some who couldn't care less.

"But they are not growing up with a war philosophy. They are the affluent generation, by Soviet standards, and have never seen war as their parents have."

Power's first trip to Moscow was for two weeks last November to map out what he wanted to film for "Discovery," the television show which he writes and produces. The second trip was for three weeks at the end of December and in early January to do the actual filming. He plans a two-part presentation; the first segment was shown Feb. 23, the second will be in March.

"I returned from the first trip depressed," said Power in an interview. "I sensed a unilateral dedication which would make life in the years ahead difficult for the Western World.

"FROM THE SECOND trip, though, I felt there are tendencies the Soviet children are not convinced that Communism will prevail by war, but will because it is right. Their thinking seems to be one of peaceful evolution.

"But it is dedication still, and this we will have to face with even greater dedication to our ideologies . . . and by outpropagandizing them.

"Ask Soviet children to name the greatest men in history," he said, "and the first one named is Lenin. Ask them the greatest living men and they answer with Khrushchev, which is to be expected, and then—surprising to me—they name Fidel Castro.

"THEY LOOK on him as a hero because he is spreading Communism to the Western World."

Power estimated that he talked with 600 children through the two interpreters who were with him and his crew for three weeks in which he said they worked out an agreement of no deleting, no screening, no censorship, no right of modification on the part of the Soviet officials.

The interpreters were Irena Tolstikova, 12, and Puri Popov, 13, the latter a dedicated "Pioneer" in the Communist movement.

Power explained that formal education for party membership begins when a child is 10. Children from ages 10-14 are inducted into the Young Pioneers—and there are 19 million of these alone, he said. At 14, they are graduated to the Young Communist League; at 21, they are full-fledged party members, provided they have met all the party's qualifications.

PIONEER PALACES include everything from ballet to chess instruction, said Power. "But recreation, or whatever, all are geared to development of the total child."

Power said he was impressed with the difference between the Soviet and American child's approach to things.

"Russian children operate as a collective . . . in groups," he said. "The American child has a strong, individual personality. In classrooms you didn't see a Russian child up waving his hand to challenge a teacher's statement as my 11-year-old would have done."

Power and his wife, a teacher in the Rye, N. Y., elementary school system, have a son, Robert, 11, and a daughter, Robin, 13.

"THE RUSSIAN children didn't seem too curious about Americans," said Power. "Obviously they don't see our publications. When I asked them what other countries they'd like to visit, none said the United States. Many mentioned Soviet satellites. And then came Cuba."

Sociologist Finds Youth Not Reading

A California sociologist feels that books are assuming a diminishing role in the education of contemporary children.

Dr. William Dienstein of Fresno State College told a recent conference of librarians that "a child gets three-quarters of his education from radio, television and conversation."

The result is that today's youth sees little need for heavy reading.

"If a child doesn't think reading is important," Dr. Dienstein said, "then we have to teach him its importance.

"Libraries must provide people with the opportunity to develop their ability to cope with reality." (UPI)

New Development

The manila hemp which as rope is hurled adroitly around posts to dock steamships throughout the world is now a fibre for fashion.

The Manila Development Board reports that significant progress has been made in efforts to cottonize or soften abaca so that it may be woven easily and remain soft in apparel.

YOUR GRANDMOTHER out on the prairie wondered over pages like this one of her dream book mail order catalogue of the early 1900s. Large retail firms predict that television will play "salesman," with the telephone to take your orders while you shop in your own living room in about 15 years, one way to avoid traffic congestion.

1974—Push-Button Deliveries

It is 1974 and you are doing your Easter shopping for the family. You are wearing a comfortable dress, slippers, and are seated coffee cup in hand in your living room. Before you a television set plays salesman and a telephone registers your purchases.

When your television shopping is through, remaining purchases will be made by flipping through the pages of a catalogue and picking up the phone, for "going shopping" is something the suburban and urban housewife of 1974 will hardly ever do.

Fantastic? Unlikely?

MOUNTING EVIDENCE from the retail world shows that it may very well be so.

Item: Retail sales inventories have never been so low as stores are depending more and more on the space available in out-of-town factories to carry the inventory burden and provide push-button deliveries—a specialty of the catalogue house.

Item: Stores who do not print catalogues per se, are making greater use of newspaper ads and newspaper supplements to do the dual job of bringing traffic to the store and soliciting mail order sales.

FURTHERMORE, more and more well advertised brands are appearing in catalogues, especially in those which feature regular prices. And—as a final proof of handwriting on the wall, the telephone people have developed a planned program for organizing and training store personnel on telephone selling. Greatest volume of business is done by the catalogues—and many department stores—by telephone in their district offices.

Highway congestion is a big factor in the new shopping trend. In recent years car production has topped people production by several millions annually—and as the year 1974 draws to a close motorists will be burning up the roads at the rate of 82 billion miles a year. In 1941 there were 11.4 cars for every mile of road. In 1963 there were 22 cars per mile of road. In 1974, at present growth rates, the number of cars per mile of American road staggers the imagination.

Another factor is the current population explosion coupled with steadily increasing longevity. Young marrieds, as today's children will be in 1974, and older couples tend to live in urban apartments, and the big cities. Chicago, New York and other big cities, today are already registering a tremendous growth in out-of-store sales.

IN THE WORDS of Warren Leslie, vice president in charge of sales promotion for Neiman Marcus in Dallas, "We seem to be becoming a nation of mail order buyers."

The trend may very well become an avalanche as color television penetrates the mass market. Already in Manhattan Tele Guide, a closed circuit network, informs hotel guests about entertainment and sightseeing, and it is moving from hotels into apartment houses. From providing information about entertainment it is a logical step to provide information about products, and the picture of the housewife shopping by television is far from unrealizable.

WHAT ARE SOME of the pitfalls of catalogue shopping, and how do women first become catalogue shoppers?

Most catalogue houses send free books to women who have purchased $15 worth of merchandise—the books come out twice a year with summer and Christmas supplements — and mail and telephone shopping becomes a habit.

GREATEST PITFALLS long-distance shoppers face is incorrect sizing in soft goods, which accounts for the largest percentage of returns. However, today's catalogue with its true to life color reproductions and scientific sizing charts are such that stores claim they have fewer returns than many retailers who offer try-on services.

Exchanging merchandise, a service offered by the majority of catalogue houses, is one major break catalogues make from the earliest days of long-distance selling.

A last century woodcut of great popularity showed a family sitting around the hearth pouring over their "dream book"—a mail order catalogue. Now it looks as though the book that got its start because of a lack of transportation may become the sales habit of tomorrow—because of an overpopulated, over-transported century.

'Why Don't They' Is Plaintive Wail Of The Housewife For Aid

NEW YORK (UPI) — A woman in St. Louis wants to know why, now that they've made everything else instant, we don't have instant eggs for the home.

A woman in Los Angeles asks why in an age of waistline watching that calorie counts aren't stamped on most foods.

These are some of the responses from readers to a recent column from listing a series of "Why Don't Theys?" to help manufacturers improve their products.

It was Mrs. O. E. Gloessner of St. Louis who wrote she had a "Why Don't They?" that had been bothering her for years. "Why don't they make powdered eggs available for home use, now that everything else is in instant or powdered form?" she asked.

"WHEN EGGS are high," she continued, "my family would gladly make do with scrambled eggs of a morning. And how wonderful to have them always on hand when you get a sudden urge to bake and have only a couple of fresh ones on the shelf."

Mrs. J. G. Collin of Los Angeles said she wanted to "register complaints concerning pointed-toe shoes, package weights such as 2 5/16 ounces, and items whose outer wrapping is much larger than its inner contents."

Then she added, ". . . now that we are nearly all greatly concerned with calorie count, all foods (dealers would profit) should have caloric count information."

TO GO WITH the letters from these women, there's a new list of suggestions from National Family Opinion, Toledo, Ohio, a consumer research firm which lists 85,000 part-time homemaker consultants. Its women ask, "Why Don't They?":

Put two red crayons in children's crayon boxes.

Put something besides plastic buttons on all-cotton garments. The garments are laundered at high temperatures and the buttons melt out of shape.

Make sure the label "twin" or "double" is easy to locate on sheets. Some manufacturers already make this labeling easy to find; others are negligent. But easy-to-find labels would save many a minute in a house where both sheet sizes are used.

Make inside breast pockets in women's coats as they do in men's suits and coats.

MAKE CUP measurements on coffee percolators easier to see. The same suggestion applies to many of the cooking utensils which have cut labels hardly visible.

Make little girl's snow leggins with a wide band of elastic around the top and eliminate the straps so that a dress could be worn over them more easily.

Put a pouring spout on detergent boxes.

Make colored salt for those who don't see too well to prevent over-salting from the shaker.

Sell men's stockings with a small piece of yarn to match so that a mended spot doesn't show.

PUT AN identifying mark on all substances that are dangerous and/or poisonous. Children recognize the meaning of skull and crossbones, but not the printed words.

AMONG the latest creations for evening wear is this Empress toque of gold silk by Mr. John. The gathered high tower crown cascades down to a simple turban.

White Wave

A great white wave's warming up as the coolest trend in spring fashion. White for daytime or evenings. White in coats and suits and dresses. White for high noon or full moon. So go the orders to Dame Fashion from trend-setting designers of the New York Couture Group.

THE BETTER HALF — By Bob Barnes

"You sure your mother wasn't hitting the cooking sherry when she handed this recipe down to you?"

Tips To Select Mattress

CHICAGO (UPI) — In selecting a comfortable mattress, it's what you can't see that is most important. Beautiful mattress ticking may please the eye, but you should know the inside story — to be in the technical know.

Bonnell type innerspring construction, one of the earliest all-steel designs, is composed of two kinds of springs: hourglass spirals with the ends knotted to hold them in place, and helical coils similar to the spirals used on school notebooks.

Bonnell innersprings, the least inexpensive to make, also are the most widely used. They are somewhat rigid and unyielding to body contours. The knotted spiral coils have a tendency to turn in time, throwing the mattress out of shape.

Marshall spring-construction consists of cylinder-shaped springs tied into individual cloth pockets. Theoretically, each spring works independently, but there is wear and tear on the cloth pockets, causing them to weaken and break loose.

THERAPEUTIC??

Dandies, Damsels May Soon Be Keeping Up With Snuff

Will Yankee Doodle dandies and damsels twitch the proboscis soon and sniff some snuff?

The question stems from the fact that all sorts of tobacco products now are being tried by Americans discouraged about cigarettes as a result of the recent report to the Surgeon General.

So why not snuff? Even for women. An observer just returned from England reports that some women there already are that way about snuff.

The snuff habit was rampant in the 16th through 18th Centuries. And if it's revived women will find many appealing characteristics connected with keeping up with snuff.

Take snuff boxes. Gold, silver and precious stones were used in their manufacture. Later, painted enamel medallions were affixed.

Another possibly appealing quality of snuff—to both men and women—is a somewhat therapeutic quality. Snuff teases the nostrils into a sneeze, on occasion.

This clears the head and brightens the eyes, generally, it is said.

Take also the matter of scent. For American women grown accustomed to exotic scents of perfumes, lipsticks and the like, the snuff scents could send them.

A woman will need to be careful, of course. She can't have her snuff scent clash with her perfume.

Snuff sniffing, incidentally, originated in the United States—not in Europe or England. We exported the habit to those regions in the 16th Century and it was there that snuff sniffing flourished in society circles. (UPI)

We'll Miss Dave Menary — Friend, Community Worker

Stout-hearted Dave Menary has gone to his reward and in our book he deserves nothing but the finest in the way of a reward.

We sometimes regret that the opportunity did not arise to tell a man while he was living the complimentary things we say about him when he is gone.

Fortunately, we had occasion to get in a few favorable remarks about the late former sheriff in this very space some years ago.

It was right after the election that ended his service as Marin County sheriff.

"He has been a faithful public servant.

" . . . Dave Menary is a man above pettiness.

"He has . . . not dealt unfairly with anyone.

"In our book . . . he's the greatest.

" . . . We have no reservations in our admiration for him as a MAN.

"We only wish the world were filled with more like him."

Dave Menary's life was admirable, honorable and productive.

At the time of his passing he was about to begin service on the new county grand jury. This was in character. He liked to be doing something constructive. We feel sure he would have made a substantial contribution to jury undertakings.

We will now be the worse for being deprived of that contribution.

We admit to a special fondness for immigrants who come to this country without appreciable financial means and without more than a modicum of education and by dint of sweat and perserverance make good, as did Dave Menary.

He played his role in history, too. He was a member of the very first California Highway Patrol squad here, when the state patrol was first organized.

And during his term as sheriff, he brought some much-needed reform to the internal workings of the sheriff's department.

Marin is a better place for Dave Menary's having lived and worked here. We will miss him both as friend and as worker for community betterment.

TREASURE ON THE OCEAN FLOOR

The bottom of the ocean is strewn with wealth waiting only to be discovered and picked up, according to the U.S. Bureau of Mines.

The first ton of ore was dredged up not long ago at a sea depth of 1200 feet about 200 miles southwest of Mexico's lower California. It consisted of potato-sized nodules rich in manganese, iron, nickel, cobalt and copper.

One scientist claims there are enough of these minerals on the ocean floors to meet man's needs for a million years.

In similar developments, Japan is digging iron ore at depths of about 200 feet. Gold, silver and platinum have been found in "interesting amounts" off the coast of Alaska. Diamonds are being dredged from the depths of the sea off Southwest Africa.

A generous Creator has bountifully provided all that man needs to live a full, happy life during his pilgrimage to heaven. Do your part to discover the hidden treasures, both physical and spiritual, that the Lord has in store for mankind.

"Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of Lights." (James 1:17)

Thanks to You, O bountiful Master, for Your countless blessings.

Cranston Far Out In Front For Demo Senate Seat Nomination

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — State Controller Alan Cranston's victory in winning the California Democratic Council endorsement in his campaign for the U.S. Senate, and the subsequent withdrawal of Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif.) from the race, leaves the controller far out ahead in the campaign.

Cranston now faces only two possible opponents in the June primary election for the Senate seat. One is the incumbent, Sen. Clair Engle (D-Red Bluff), who is recovering from brain surgery last August and considered by many top Democrats as being incapable of carrying on a campaign or serving if elected.

THE OTHER is Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, whose political plans still are not definite. Mosk said in January he was considering entering the race and would announce definitely on Feb. 15. That deadline was extended indefinitely.

Cranston thus is in the enviable position of having two possible opponents show up the weakest at the CDC weekend convention in Long Beach. Mosk took himself out of the contest for the endorsement, saying he hadn't had time to put together a campaign because of uncertainty about Engle's health. There were estimates, however, that he would not have polled 20 per cent of the vote if he actively had sought the endorsement.

MOSK EARLIER had cut himself free from the CDC endorsement, saying it would have no effect on whether he remained in the race.

Most felt that Engle lost considerably at the convention. The senator had been urged to make a personal appearance. Instead he talked briefly on the telephone with Tom Carvey, CDC president, and this was beamed over the loudspeaker.

Engle's speech was halting and uncertain, bringing tears to the eyes of many delegates. And the balloting showed most delegates seemed to feel Engle was not sufficiently recovered. Of 2,212 ballots cast, Engle took only 281.

MANY OF THESE, no doubt, were sentimental votes. CDC voting is by congressional districts and, of the 38, only two failed to give Engle at least one vote. The Second Congressional District, which Engle served many years as congressman, cast all its 56 votes for Engle.

Cranston polled 1,197 ballots to 727 for Roosevelt. With Roosevelt's announced pledge of support for Cranston, this gave the controller the overwhelming support of the volunteer organization.

There are some estimates that the CDC is worth close to $500,000 to a candidate for state-wide office in volunteer work in the precincts.

Cranston said he believed his Republican opponent in the general election next November would be film star George Murphy. Murphy has long been a worker in the Republican party but this is his first fling at a state-wide office.

Imported Abalone Available In Marin

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In tonight's I-J (Feb. 21) in his column "Dining Out and Inns," Harry Craft says abalone is the thing to eat now. I know from experience they are delicious, but if he will look on page 30 of the California Sport Fishing Regulations he will find it is against the law as the abalone season is open only from March 16 to Jan. 14, so his readers will have to wait a few more weeks, the same as the rest of us.

Man Should Make Himself Wanted

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In reading the I-J Saturday evening (Feb. 22), I noticed an article on the front page about Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, Stated Clerk of the United Presbyterian Church of the United States.

I observed he did not come to see the Civic Center, or the green hills of Marin, but for "Human Rights." It would be interesting to know if he observed the Lucky Market in Fairfax and the demonstration CORE was putting on. I would also like to know if he believes a working man, who may not happen to be Negro, should be allowed to purchase food for his family, after a hard week's work, without interference.

No man, including myself, regardless of color, race or creed, can force himself into any society unless he makes himself wanted. The sooner the churches, the political mongers and the general public realize this, the sooner the Negroes will gain the position each rightfully deserves.

Pay-TV Would Be Welcomed Here

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On Feb. 19 in a story headlined "Against Pay-TV," you reported that the Alameda County board of supervisors voted 4-1 to support an initiative designed to outlaw pay-TV. This vote was taken after hearing arguments for two hours, mostly from those who favored the initiative. Another newspaper carried the story with the vote 4-1 against support. Upon telephoning the Alameda board of supervisors, I found that the vote actually was 4-1 against supporting the initiative.

On Feb. 8, my family plus one attended the movies in Mill Valley—cost, $6.15. On Feb. 15, my family attended movies in Tiburon — cost, $5.75. Many of us cannot afford that very often. However, today (Feb. 25) a San Francisco newspaper carried a full-page ad that stated soon I would be able to see current movies on pay-TV for the price of one general admission. I applaud the clear-thinking Alameda County board of supervisors. If their sound reasoning prevails, perhaps many families can enjoy a current movie more often.

Local Governments Should Control Fill

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have read with great interest your editorial of Thursday, Feb. 13, headed "ABAG On Right Track In Opposing Fill Moratorium." We at The Draper Companies, as you can well understand, have been following the progress and discussion concerning this bill very closely during the past few months. Members of my staff and myself have attended several conferences or speeches on the subject, both pro and con, in an effort to remain as well informed on the bill as we possibly can.

We, of course, hope for the defeat of the moratorium bill because we feel that we have the right to make plans for development of tidelands which we own in connection with our Peacock Gap project. More than that, however, we feel that interference of this sort with private enterprise borders very heavily on infringement of individual rights and, therefore, could be termed unconstitutional. It is not only unfair to us as private investors, but we agree with you in your editorial that it is a matter which should be controlled by the city and county governments in the Bay Area who are most concerned with the development progress of the Bay Area tidelands. This seems to us only logical. . . .

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Does the number 13 terrify you? If it does, points out Wes Lawrence, you are tempting fate every time you finger a U.S. one-dollar bill. The incomplete pyramid on its back has 13 steps. Above the pyramid are the words "Annuit Coeptis" with 13 letters. The American bald eagle holds in one talon an olive branch with 13 leaves, in the other talon a bundle of 13 arrows. These, of course, are reproductions of the two sides of the Great Seal of the U.S., which had 13 original states. And in the border of the reverse side of the dollar bill the figure 1 and the word "one" appear together 13 times.

Years ago, when Gertrude Lawrence and Bea Lillie were enchanting Broadway audiences in an imported English musical called Charlot's Revue, Miss Lillie appeared one evening late in the run in a long, regal evening gown, sang a lugubrious ballad, and then, to the delighted surprise of the audience, pulled up her skirt and roller-skated off the stage.

OVERHEARD:

Man with a terrible hangover hollering at his cat: "Confound it! Stop stamping your feet!"

Head of a Hollywood studio to an underling: "What I like about you, George, is the way you bow and scrape without being sickening about it."

Confession by Groucho Marx: "Whenever I see a man with a piece of sugar, I get a lump in my throat."

Political Philosophy Courses Planned

Henry T. Gardener, San Francisco author and social research consultant, will teach two College of Marin adult education courses in political philosophy on Fridays, starting tomorrow.

The courses are "Science and the Modern Temper" from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the San Anselmo Center, and "Contemporary Political Issues" from 7 to 10 p.m., in Olney Hall, Kentfield.

'Changing Heritage' New Audubon Film

The Audubon wild life film "Our Changing Heritage" will be presented by Emerson Scott, Audubon speaker from Michigan, at 8 p.m., March 1, in Olney Hall, College of Marin.

The motion picture emphasizes the need for preservation of wild life areas, according to Mrs. Thomas E. Welsh, Audubon society member.

Johnson Doesn't Seem To Have Kennedy's Foreign Policy Touch

WASHINGTON (AP) — For President Lyndon B. Johnson the ideal situation would leave him free to concentrate on dealing with Congress, where he was one of the experts of the century. Foreign affairs were not his field.

But, ironically, once the Senate tackles the civil rights bill, perhaps this week, a Southern filibuster against it will tie up all other Senate business for weeks and perhaps months.

Johnson will need all his magic to save the bill but for those many weeks of filibustering there isn't much he can do except, perhaps, devote himself more completely to the unfinished foreign problems needing his attention.

FOR EXAMPLE: Cuba, Panama and Vietnam.

But Johnson simply does not have John F. Kennedy's deftness in foreign affairs, at least in discussing them publicly. He has had some setbacks in negotiations although Kennedy might have had the same luck.

He couldn't, for example, get Britain or other friends and allies to cut off trade with Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Over the weekend there came a strange finish to his two-day conference in California with Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos when the two men wrote a communique on their meeting.

IT GLOWED with agreement and agreeableness. Then Lopez Mateos held a news conference and rubbed off some of the glow. This involved Venezuela's charge that Cuba is trying to undermine and destroy Venezuela's government.

The Organization of American States — Cuba is no longer a member—is investigating the charges.

Although the Johnson-Lopez Mateos communique told of their desire to strengthen the OAS, Lopez Mateos told reporters the United Nations, not the OAS, should be investigating Venezuela's charges. This was not mentioned in the communique.

Mexico's Foreign Minister Manuel Tello reportedly said Mexico would not necessarily feel itself bound to support sanctions against Cuba if the OAS voted them.

What this might mean to the future of OAS—if Mexico ignored the OAS decision on Cuba — is anybody's guess. Lopez Mateos also said the OAS should try to solve the difficulties with Panama.

PANAMA WANTS to renegotiate the 1903 treaty which permits this country to control the Panama Canal Zone indefinitely. The United States has offered to talk but has refused to make any pledges.

If this may have caused some confusion, a speech Johnson made while in California was not entirely clear.

At one point, as a consolation for the troubles of the West, he spoke of the "spreading civil war" among the Communist nations.

One newsman there considered that important enough to make it the lead of his story.

But this writer has been informed that before the story got into print Johnson's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, phoned the newsman that he was overemphasizing the importance of that part of the speech.

Others used a different lead, based on another part of the Johnson speech. In this he said, without naming them, that "those" engaged in the "external direction and supply" of the Communist guerrillas fighting the American-backed government of South Vietnam were playing a "deeply dangerous game."

This was interpreted by one reporter as part of a new campaign of psychological warfare against the Communists in North Vietnam. But Monday there were indications that no decision has been made on the way the Vietnamese war is to be fought.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

'Economic Blockade' Of Cuba Like Sieve

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—This country's so-called "economic blockade" against Communist-ruled Cuba is as full of holes as a sieve, and all indications are this farcical situation will continue.

That provision Congress wrote into the foreign aid budget last year, over strenuous White House opposition, barring aid to countries doing business with this Red satellite is to be largely bypassed. The recent widely-publicized crackdown on Britain, France and Yugoslavia, whose U.S. assistance now amounts to only a few hundred thousand dollars, was merely a faint tap on the wrist that is going no further.

There are to be no really tough cut-offs of aid dollars.

FOREIGN DIPLOMATS here are saying privately they have word from State Department authorities that no major beneficiary of U.S. aid doing business with Kremlin-puppet Castro will be hit by the congressional ban.

These diplomats are claiming they have been told the Johnson administration will get around that by invoking a loophole in the provision. Under this "escape clause" the president can waive the restriction by formally proclaiming that it is in the "national interest."

Foremost among the countries slated for such waiver is Spain, which has just granted the U.S. a much-needed base for a squadron of nuclear submarines armed with Polaris missiles.

IN FISCAL 1963 Spain received 61 million dollars in U.S. aid. To that date total U.S. aid to Spain was 1.742 billion dollars.

Of the 22 free-world countries trading with Cuba, 14 have received large amounts of U.S. aid, some of them billions. These billion-dollar beneficiaries include Belgium-Luxembourg, France, Germany, Greece, Italy, the Netherlands, Britain and Japan—with Egypt and Chile almost in that class with more than 800 million dollars each.

Rep. Paul Rogers (D-Fla.), author of the restrictive provision, is set to offer it again in this year's foreign aid budget.

President Lyndon B. Johnson has indicated he will ask for a total of 3.4 billion dollars; 2.4 billion economic and one billion military aid. He will also again vigorously oppose Rogers' curb.

AS DRAFTED by him and voted by the House, this ban was mandatory; countries doing business with Castro automatically would have been cut off from U.S. aid. Under powerful White House pressure the Senate watered that down to give the president waiver authority in the "national interest."

This battle will be refought when the foreign aid issue is considered by Congress later this year.

Slated to play an important role in this bitter fight are Commerce Department reports on the steadily growing volume of free-world trade with Communist puppet Castro.

The latest official figures, as of last October, disclose that the countries now doing the most business with Cuba are Italy, the Netherlands, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Britain, Japan and Canada.

Corte Madera, Larkspur Bond Issues Have Plus, Minus Signs

BOND ISSUES proposed by the Town of Corte Madera and the Larkspur School District can be visualized at this point with a plus and minus sign placed in front of each.

Favoring passage of both bond issues is the recent success in San Rafael. Larkspur School District officials regard approval of the 3.3-million-dollar bond issue for classroom construction in San Rafael as a good sign. Perhaps voter opinion is swinging the other way on bond issues, they theorize.

Working against the bond issues is the simple fact that voters in Corte Madera will be asked to approve a total of $575,000 in bonds within less than two months. This amount for both bond issues, plus a 60-cent tax increase for the school district, will be on the April 14 and June 2 ballots.

THE QUESTION of whether the timing of the requests is unfortunate is not emphasized by school and town officials. They point to the immediate need for such things as more classrooms and teachers and a public safety building and new fire station.

The campaign, being run by James McClintock, chairman of the school district citizens committee for passage of the tax and bond measures, will take a different tack this time.

For the tax and bond election last June, the citizens committee worked on the theory that everyone in Larkspur and Corte Madera should be contacted in a door-to-door campaign. This strategy "stirred up the no vote," according to McClintock.

For the bond election in January, the committee held grade-level meetings for parents in all of the district's schools—aiming primarily at the parents' votes. The meetings were "very, very poorly attended," McClintock said.

THIS TIME the committee will again aim primarily at the parents. However, committee members will not wait for the parents to come to the schools, they will go out to neighborhood and club meetings.

The committee will be aiming to get more parents registered to vote. Twenty per cent of the parents whose children attend district schools were not registered for the last election.

With the election for unification of the Tamalpais Union High School District elementary schools on the same date, the committee will be stressing the need for additional monies, even if the unification measure should pass.

Volunteer firemen in Corte Madera will be asked to take on the job of promoting the town's bond issue. Their campaign strategy has not yet been drawn up, but they will have some good selling points.

If the bond issue is passed, city offices would be moved from the town annex to the present fire station, which would also house the offices of the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

THE TOWN ANNEX, a former farm house, is believed to have been built around 1880. As a method of dating, it can be noted that the annex is held together with hand-hewn nails.

Five employees of the city office plus seven maintenance men share the one rest room in the annex. There is no separate rest room for women. Under similar conditions, City Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow says the city would ask any business to make corrections or move out.

In addition to this violation of the state housing code, the annex is in violation of numerous sections of the town's building code. However, the building code is not applicable unless the annex is remodeled.

If the town's bond issue fails, Brandow says that he would recommend that the council rent other quarters for the city offices. This does not solve the need for additional space for the fire and police departments.

If the school bond and tax increase issues fail for the fourth time, district officials would most probably offer it again to voters.

It will be interesting to see whether voter attitude has flipped, or if two bond issues will be too much. The unknown factor is the effectiveness of the campaigns.

HAL BOYLE

Columnist Takes Poke At 25-Year Employees—But What About Him?

NEW YORK (AP) — In most large offices today there is an organization called the "25 Year Club."

It probably was created—or such was the fond hope—to boost morale among aging employees of the firm—and to offer living example to the younger workers that, by one device or another, it is possible for almost anybody to stay on the same payroll for a quarter century or longer.

Members of the club take themselves with high seriousness. They like to think of themselves as veterans, scarred by long and dedicated service to the company.

THEIR VENERATION for themselves is hardly shared by the youthful employees. These call the club the "Desperation Society" or "Wheel Chair Brigade."

If there is such a club in your office or factory, you might find among its members such familiar characters as:

Mossback Myron—After 47 years in the firm, he has the idea he owns it. If the superintendent even changes the brand of paper towels in the men's washroom, Myron wants to know why he wasn't consulted first.

Opportunistic Otto — As soon as Otto becomes eligible for the club, he wants to use it as a real club against everybody who isn't a member. "Why don't we demand that management make it a rule not to give a merit raise to anyone under 45?"

GOOD THING Gilbert — The night they pinned a 25-year button in his lapel, Gilbert took off on a three-week binge — figuring he was at last safe from firing. Now Gilbert's back in the stockroom, right where he started 25 years ago.

Cynical Sid — "This thing and 15 cents will get you a ride on the subway any time," he says of his new "endurance button." But actually he is secretly proud of it, and shines it every morning.

Grateful Gerald — A lifelong sad sack, Gerald is so glad to have any recognition at last that he would like to wear his 25-year pin in the middle of his forehead. If strangers don't ask him what it is, he tells them anyway.

DISGRUNTLED Dave—He wears his 25-year pin upside down as a sign of silent disapproval of the fact that the firm didn't give him a gold watch and an extra week's vacation, too.

Ambitious Albert — Albert politics all year in hopes that the 25-year men will elect him head of the club at their annual dinner — so that the big boss finally will start calling him "Al."

(EDITOR'S NOTE: We're not sure just where Boyle fits in this list—but he's a 28-year man himself.)

ALMANAC

The moon is full. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1860, Abraham Lincoln made his first speech in the East, and spoke on slavery.

In 1932, scientists were overwhelmed by the announcement that a British scientist had discovered the neutron.

In 1939, the U. S. Supreme Court outlawed "sit-down" strikes.

In 1942, the Battle of the Java Sea began. It was won ultimately by the Japanese, who sank 13 warships compared to a loss of two in their Navy.

A thought for the day — Abraham Lincoln once said: "While the people retain their virtue and vigilance, no administration, by any extreme of wickedness or folly, can very seriously injure the government in the short space of four years."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Wrong Kind Of Double Tips Declarer Off At Bridge Table

When you double for penalties you should expect to beat the contract by at least two tricks.

Even if one of your tricks fails to materialize, you will still wind up with a plus score.

2 ♡	4 ♠	Double	All Pass

Opening lead — ♣ Q

East's double was a poor idea since he couldn't tell how many tricks his side could take.

KEPT QUIET

If East had kept quiet he might well have defeated the contract; his double steered South to the winning line of play.

West opened the queen of clubs to dummy's king, and declarer immediately returned a low heart from dummy. West won the second trick with the jack of hearts and led another club to dummy's ace.

Declarer ruffed a heart, led a trump to dummy's king, and ruffed another heart.

CONTINUES PLAN

Since West was out of hearts, this was a dangerous play—except that the penalty double located the trumps. South knew that West was out of trumps and could therefore not overruff.

THREE TRUMPS

East threw away the king of hearts, saving his three trumps, but nothing could save him. When West continued with a fourth diamond, declarer discarded from dummy.

East had to ruff his partner's trick. Then he had to lead a spade from his Q-8 up to dummy's A-J, giving declarer his ninth and tenth tricks.

The wrong kind of double puts your finger in the opponent's mouth and invites him to bite.

QUESTION

Partner opens with one diamond and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ 5 3
♥ 9 6 2
♦ Q 7 6 2
♣ Q 8 7 2

What do you say?

Answer: Pass.

You have 4 points for the two queens and 1 point for the doubleton, but this is not quite enough for a response. Avoid responding with less than 6 points.

QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠ A K J
♥ Q 7 6 3
♦ A 8 5
♣ A K 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one club.

You are one point light for an opening bid of 2 NT. Start with one club and jump to game in notrump if partner can respond.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Complete Baby-Feeding Device Is Thrown Away After It Is Used

VAN DELLEN

A new concept in infant feeding has been developed in this country. It is a completely self-contained, fully disposable feeding unit with a pre-mixed and sterilized formula. The new nurser comes complete with sterilized nipples, ready for immediate use. Several formulas are available.

The mother receives these units daily, opens a packagle, snaps on the nipple, and feeds the infant. Heating is unnecessary because the baby drinks the milk at room temperature. The empty unit is thrown away.

THE SYNDROME of numb chin may sound innocuous but is potentially serious. It usually indicates the spread to the jaw of cancer cells from a distant malignancy. These cells lodge in an area where a nerve to one side of the chin emerges from the bone.

Most victims complain of numbness of the chin and lower lip on the involved side. Pain and swelling are noted occasionally. Injury to the jaw may produce similar symptoms but this nerve and its branches seldom are involved in inflammatory disorders.

"CANCER of the male breast is 100 times less frequent than female breast cancer," says a story in the Medical World News. This type of carninoma is likely to develop at a later age in the male sex (64 years versus 58 years for the female).

The outcome in men is not as good as in women, possibly because men wait too long before consulting a physician after discovering the tumor. In one series of cases, two-thirds stalled for over a month; of those, 50 per cent waited more than six months. Breast removal is the best treatment and since most males have little excess tissue over the chest, the incision must be closed with the aid of a skin graft.

THE MAGPIE is an innocent looking bird but one became a little demon and attacked a 5-month-old baby. The following story was told in the British Medical journal:

A mother heard her child "screaming in her pram in the garden and rushed out to find the magpie perched with a strong grip on the child's right arm and pecking at the child's eyes." The bird was so determined in its attack it took a bit of doing to drive it off. The infant was scratched, but not seriously.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

EYEBALL TENSION

H. H. writes: Can glaucoma be treated successfully with medicine, if done as soon as pain comes on?

REPLY

Yes, but surgery may be needed if the medicine fails to lower eyeball tension. Early treatment helps prevent blindness, and, in this respect, is most important.

RECOVERY

V. E. writes: Can a person who is paralyzed in the legs from polio be in good health mentally and physically?

REPLY

Yes, because the brain was not involved. The late President Franklin D. Roosevelt was a good example.

EYE PAIN

F. M. writes: After watching TV for some time I develop pain in one eye. Does this have any significance?

REPLY

Pain suggests glaucoma. Consult your ophthalmologist, who will test the pressure in the eye.

MOST CASES RECOVER

W. H. K. writes: Does chronic hepatitis last a lifetime?

REPLY

This happens in some instances.

Body Is An Almost Perfect Radiator

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—Science is still trying to extract human benefits from a little known fact of the human body, and this time it may do it. The human body is an almsot perfect radiator.

It radiates the electromagnetic waves of heat. With many radiators, the natures of their surfaces influence their radiations. Human radiations depend almost entirely on body heat. Hence the descriptive word, "perfect."

The lengths of the waves are governed by the temperature of the radiator, whatever it is. The body maintains an even temperature which puts its radiating waves into a narrow range in the infrared band on the spectrum.

Because human body heat is maintained by the flowing blood, it occurred to Dr. Lee Hoffman of the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, New York, that human radiations could be made to show up the beginnings of vascular diseases as nothing else can.

These are the interruptions and slowings of blood flow that lead eventually to grave illness, and often their first clear signs are in the extremities, especially the legs.

Hoffman enlisted the help of Arthur Dimattia, a research engineer of Baird-Atomic, Inc., Cambridge, Mass. He put together an intricate device for "sensing" infrared wave lengths according to their intensities and visualizing them on a screen which could be photographed.

The hands of four persons were "sensed" by this device. Two persons had quite normal hands. The other two each had one hand in which blood flow was being messed up by vascular disease. The visualizations of the hands in infrared not only distinguished the normal from the abnormal but pin-pointed the flow-slowing in the abnormal hands.

This success Hoffman and Dimattia reported to a technical organ of the American Medical Assn. What they hope to do is perfect a "sensing" device and practical techniques to go with it that will permit infrared mappings of large areas of the body.

The device won't be so hard to bring to the essential peak of very high sensitivity as the techniques will be, they pointed out. Human surface temperature is influenced by blood volume as well as by blood flow. That's one difficulty.

Room temperature and humidity affect skin temperature, and the fats and fluids beneath the skin influence heat radiation. And a little sweat will lower skin temperature. Those are other difficulties. Nevertheless, Hoffman and Dimattia made accurate enough allowances for them all to get accurate visualizations of hands. Legs would be infinitely harder.

Medical science's first extended efforts to exploit the human infrared radiations centered on cancer detection. It was thought then that cancers, tumors and cysts were not of the same temperature as the surrounding normal tissues.

It turned out they often were.

WHAT THE WELL-DRESSED LAMB WEARS

Grace Lorens and Barry Neal, both 5, of Novato, rehearse their pets for the "Best Dressed Farm Animal" contest to be conducted at the Cow Palace in San Francisco March 14. Children from three to 14 years of age may enter pets in the competition until the March 11 deadline. The grand prize is a trip to Disneyland for the owner of the winning animal and one parent. Other prizes include tickets to arena shows at the Junior Grand National Livestock Exposition. (Photo by Hal Randall)

Make-Believe Violence Seen As Leading To Real Violence

By JOSEPH L. MYLER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A psychologist has produced experimental evidence that violence, even if it is only make-believe, begets violence.

Says Dr. Leonard Berkowitz, professor of psychology at the University of Wisconsin, "Filmed violence is potentially dangerous."

But what if it's only the bad guys, in a screen or television play, that get the tar whaled out of them?

"If a young child sees repeatedly that the screen heroes gain their ends through aggressive actions," says Berkowitz, "he may conclude that aggression is desirable behavior."

Adults also are influenced by staged violence. Suppose Citizen Smith is insulted or frustrated or otherwise graveled by Citizen Jones. Smith sees a film of violence. Shortly thereafter he encounters Jones. Jones just may have to fight or run.

About 23 centuries ago Aristotle laid down the rule that drama based on violence provides a harmless release for whatever tendencies toward antisocial aggression might reside in the breasts of the spectators.

This notion of catharsis, or purgation, has persisted to the present. You hear it defended, or denounced, says Berkowitz, in "the running debate over whether or not scenes of violence in motion pictures and television programs can instigate violent deeds."

Some "eminent authorities" contend make-believe violence "can actually have beneficial results in that the viewer may purge himself of hostile impulses by watching other people behave aggressively."

But other authorities of equal stature argue, as one psychiatrist told a Senate subcommittee, that filmed violence "is a preparatory school for delinquency."

Until recently, however, "neither of these arguments had the support of data obtained by controlled experimentation." So Berkowitz and his colleagues at Wisconsin set out to test the arguments.

The experimental results tend to "support the view that the experience of watching acts of violence on the screen can, in fact, result in subsequent acts of violence on the part of some viewers."

In one case, the experimenter deliberately angered a group of college men by sneering at their mental ability and educational background. Some of the insulted ones were then shown a film in which one gyu beats another guy to pieces, practically. Others of the group were shown "a more neutral film" depicting, say, the travels of Marco Polo.

Both groups were given the opportunity to indicate what they thought of a drawing made by the experimenter who had insulted them.

They did this by administering electrical shocks to the fellow.

Those who had witnessed the fight film vented their feelings "by administering far more shocks to the experimenter" than did those who had dreamed along with Marco.

It made little difference, in the case of those who gave the insulting experimenter his comeuppance, whether the gory film showed an "unprincipled scoundrel" getting his just deserts or "merely a poor unfortunate" worthy of sympathy.

The experimenter (solely in the interests of science) had nettled them. So, having witnessed other people's violence, when they got the chance to prickle him with electricity, they did.

As Berkowitz concluded, "Violence begets violence."

It's Time Of Terror For Watusi Children

USUMBURA, Burundi (AP)—It is a time of terror for Watusi children. Misery attends lithe young descendants of a lordly race which for 400 years headed a feudal society in the equatorial African land that is now Rwanda.

Ill-clad and hungry, hundreds of waifs are fleeing into Burundi from massacres by the stocky Bahutus, ex-slaves, that have swallowed up their aristocratic parents.

Sometimes the chldren are led by a tall and slender elder who survived the tribal warfare that missionaries estimate has cost the lives of up to 20,000 Watusis in the past three months.

Sometimes, ragged and ailing from exposure, they come alone to a new life in refugee camps set up for them by the Burundi government within a few miles of the frontier.

Refugee relief organizations are trying to truck in supplies to keep pace with the growth of the camps. About 22,000 refugees already are on hand.

Backgrounding the trouble is the old enslavement of Bahutus by the brown-skinned Watusis. That developed when the Watusis moved their cattle herds southward — apparently from Ethiopia — in the 16th century to the lush pasturage between Lake Victoria and Lake Tanganyika.

Rwanda was part of a Belgian protectorate when the Bahutus, a pure-blooded Negro tribe, rebelled against the Watusis and drove out many to neighboring countries in 1959.

The current bloodshed started late last year when Inyenzi bands, challenging the modern weapons of Rwanda's Belgian-officered army of 1,200 Bahutus, launched a series of raids across the frontier in a desperate bid to retake the country.

when should your child start reading a newspaper?

The sooner the better. It supplements his education, stimulates curiosity, enlarges his view of the real world. Once he picks up the newspaper habit he'll never put it down. It becomes an enduring relationship. And the need for a newspaper keeps growing...

Tobacco Ads Get Drubbing In Marin Film

By RICHARD LYTTLE

The Marin Medical Society is preparing for the premiere showing of its $7,500 film which gives a 20-minute spoof of the tobacco industry, particularly its advertising campaigns.

Premiere will be at 3:30 p.m. March 6 in Olney Hall of College of Marin, Kentfield. Members of the society, however, will get a sneak preview at their meeting March 5 in the Meadow Club at Fairfax.

The society hopes that smokers who see the show will throw the filthy stuff away and kick the habit when the film comes to an end. That is the whole purpose of the production.

SOME SLAPSTICK

Lawrence A. Williams of San Mateo was producer and David Parker of San Mateo was writer-director. The film is billed as a satirical comedy and is not without some slapstick.

It tells of a hypothetical tobacco company trying to combat the adverse publicity on cigarettes and also trying to make up for the loss, through death, of many of its regular customers.

Executives of the firm, the Finster Tobacco Co., try many new promotion techniques. They want to capture the young market, but shots of football players calling time for a smoke and other schemes do not seem to click with the advertising managers.

SMOKING FUN

They also try to prove that smoking is fun. For these scenes, the film shows 12 cigarette-armed high school students from Marin County frolicking in Golden Gate Park.

Finally the tobacco company comes up with a slogan—Finster smokers are "Too Tough to Care." This is the title of the film and provides the concluding scenes, each with a jingle, showing a window washer who is so tough he uses both hands to light up and a gas meter reader who is too tough to worry about the danger of gas, and so on. All these tough guys, of course, meet sudden death.

The film was produced with $6,000 from the surplus remaining from the 1962-63 Marin K. O. Polio program and $1,500 from the California Medical Assn.

The film was made specially for the teen audience, to be available for school programs. However, it will also be available for adult viewers.

Lead roles are taken by members of the Committee, a San Francisco comedy team. Stars are Scott Beach and Larry Hankin. There are several "Finstermen" for the final scenes.

Another star of the film that keeps showing up is the Finster emblem, a vulture holding a dollar in one claw and a lily in the other. This was designed by Schenkofsky Design-Illustration, Berkeley.

Marin high school students taking part are Gayle Reynolds and Terry Tadlock of Sir Francis Drake High, Diane Scheibach and Ron Rieche of Novato High, Laurence Herst and Cammy Mills of Redwood High, Pat Howland and Richard Ahern of San Rafael High, Jill Rutledge and Ellis Williams of Tamalpais High, and Bonny Brown and Bob Cooney of Terra Linda High School.

You might see some of these youngsters light up and put a cigarette in their mouths, but you won't see them smoking. None of them is a smoker. When the script called for them to puff away, an actress had to be called in to do the job.

Dr. Gerald Hill, director of the Marin society's smoking information program, provided medical and psychiatric consultation for the production.

He is predicting a hit.

"Educators as well as teenagers will find the film a refreshing new approach to the smoking problem, particularly in the area of visual education," he said.

TOUGH GUY—Harry Freis of San Francisco, poses for a Finsterman ad in the Marin Medical Society's spoof of the smoking industry. Freis well illustrates the title "Too Tough to Care." Premiere of the film will be March 6 at College of Marin.

Full-Time Plan Aide Is Urged

Mill Valley should hire a full-time planning consultant, City Councilman George D. Monardo said today, adding he will make this proposal to the council at its Monday night meeting.

Monardo believes a full-time consultant would be no additional cost to taxpayers, saying the city has spent $6,080 so far this year. He estimates Mill Valley will spend $10,420 for the full fiscal year on its planning consultant.

The city now hires John D. Erickson on a part-time basis. "Mill Valley could receive greater planning benefits and the planning department could be better organized under a professional planner's immediate direction," said Monardo.

Boys Stone Car

Rym Partridge reported to Mill Valley police Tuesday afternoon that on Sunday, while he was driving in the 400 block on Molino Avenue, two young boys threw a rock which broke the rear window of his 1956 Ford. Partridge lives at 26 Cleveland Avenue, Mill Valley.
